Jr. College Controversy Is One of Long Standing

By NORMAN COLBY

The struggle between Superintendent Drummond McCunn and many teachers of the Contra Costa Junior College District goes much deeper than the latest manifestations of that struggle—the John Birch Society controversy and assertions that certain district textbooks are "slanted" toward socialism.

SEE EDITORIALS — FRONT PAGE, SECOND SECTION

District governors have been troubled since 1958 by complaints by the teachers' organizations that they were never consulted on district policies or practices which affect teachers, matters which generally do not pertain to the administration or management of the district.

The teachers for years contended that they and also administrative personnel were discouraged from attending board meetings, and in turn the board of governors members were reluctant to deal directly with "pressure groups."

THE TEACHERS, PRIOR to McCunn's attack on certain textbooks (including "The Shape of English") were quick to admit that they were allowed great freedom within the classroom, especially on the Diablo Valley campus, and to a more limited extent have been consulted on the district's future building plans.

Teachers did not disagree with board members' statements that a new district might need a superintendent with the ability to "get tough," since a strong administrative start was needed. (The district was created in 1949.)

But the California Teachers Association chapter at Diablo Valley College and the faculty club at the Contra Costa campus in San Pablo continued to be dissatisfied, and it was noted that the district had five college directors and two assistant superintendents during the first nine years of operation.

It was natural for the district board of governors, which also experienced some turnover, to decide that a strong superintendent needs support, and a strong superintendent also may not please everyone.

BUT THE BOARD MEMBERS also believed that the teacher murmurings were based mainly on desire for higher salaries, sabbatical leave policies, the lack of lounge facilities and the like.

The board of governors believed that the murmurings came from a small group of teachers who were frustrated for some personal reason or other.

Between the board of governors and their teachers stood a dominating figure, a man with a strong will, a man who by the terms of the education code is the funnel through which the board issues its orders and receives response from district administrators and employees.

Drummond McCunn was the man who built the Contra Costa Junior College District into the imposing two-campus system it is today.

AS HE SAID to his students during "college hour," "On August 15, 1949, I reported for duty with no place to go—no office, no telephone, no secretary, no teachers and no students . ."

Did the teachers really have a cause of complaint? How many of them actually had strong objections to Drummond McCunn?

In September, 1958, the faculty members sent representatives to a board meeting, and they declared that "communications" between teachers, administrators and the board had deteriorated, with a bad effect on faculty morale.

Some board members expressed an interest in obtaining more information, and there followed a survey of teacher opinions by the California Teachers Association Field Service, and then a study by the CTA Personnel Standards Commission.

SUPERINTENDENT McCUNN cooperated with the study team, and a number of discussions were held. The sentiments of a majority of the teachers were determined.

A report was issued in March, 1959, by the CTA Personnel Standards Commission from its San Francisco office. The report was never formally acted upon by the board of governors.

Its major conclusion: "Arbitrary decisions, personal affronts,

THIS LITTLE GIRL loves her dog, "Louie," and together they have won the top obedience award authorized by the American Kennel Club. Alison Hood, at 10, is the youngest member of Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club to be so honored. Sun photo by Bob Rush.

...A Good Team

Alison Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hood of Danville, at 10 years of age, is the youngest member of the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club to win the "Utility Degree."

Alison and "Louie," her miniature poodle, have now passed what is termed "the most difficult step in obedience training."

Why difficult? Well, Louie must be adept at directional jumping to hand signals; the dog must have developed scent discrimination and must have also passed the two lower degrees, called "CD and CDX."

WHEN ALISON was only 8 years old she started attending obedience classes at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center to watch her mother train their dog, "Mimi."

One evening the Howard Hoopers brought their silver miniature poodle, "Louie," to class, and Alison and "Louie" fell in love and became a familiar sight as they would "practice" obedience work together on the sidelines or just curl up in a chair together for a nap.

The Hoopers urged Alison to handle "Louie" in several fun matches during that summer, and they were amazed at the high scores they earned in the Open B ring, and the personality change in their dog who had never been particularly fond of children.

So they decided to give "Louie" to Alison for her own pet. Alison then began to train "Louie" officially in class under the direction of the club's professional trainer, Tom Witcher, and in 1961 they earned their Utility Degree.

PLAQUES WERE also presented to other club members and their dogs who won other honors in American Kennel Club licenses obedience trials.

Moraga To Vote On Bonds Tues.

Tuesday is voting day for Moraga residents.

The sale of $350,000 in bonds to provide for present and future building needs for the Moraga School District is the issue.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at both Camino Pablo and Rheem schools. A two-thirds majority is necessary for passage of the bonds. Moraga is a young and according to figures released from the district office, a fast-growing district.

The $350,000 figure was arrived at, says Superintendent William H. Knight, by a projection enrollment figures over a five-year period. These figures, he points out, indicate the enrollment will double within five years at the rate of 120 students per year.

AT PRESENT enrollment in the Moraga District is approximately 500. A "fact sheet" from the district reports a projected enrollment of 599 students representing an overload of 16 children on October 31 of this year.

Projected enrollment on October 31, 1966 is 1043 or more than double the current enrollment. Knight says the $350,000 bond election request is based on this enrollment figure.

District capacity now is 583 students. Donald L. Rheem School has one kindergarten room and eight classrooms. Camino Pablo School has eight classrooms.

Knight says "Our present buildings will be seriously overcrowded by the end of this year and will require double sessions within two years. Even double session capacity will be exceeded in four years."

PASSAGE of the bond election would enable the district to construct additional facilities. If this happens according to the fact sheet plans are to: "Construct a kindergarten and approximately five classrooms as an addition to Camino Pablo School, construct an addition of approximately eight classrooms to the Rheem School and acquire a site for a third school.

This would provide for grades kindergarten through eighth in both schools whereas at present children in grades kindergarten through fourth go to Rheem School and children grades five through eight attend Camino Pablo.

The Moraga district is financed by a combination of local bond issue and state aid funds. If this bond election fails the population increase in Moraga (90 to 91 homes and 111 additional children per year), would require another bond election as soon as the minimum waiting period has passed.

State aid is forthcoming to a district under a formula based on number of residence units and probable number of children to attend the schools. This formula fixes the size of the school facility to be authorized. The district has the plans prepared by an architect and approved by the state. Then, when the district has bonds outstanding equal to five per cent of the assessed value of the district, the state makes up the necessary balance to build the school or school improvement.

THE $350,000 authorization should be enough to meet the school district requirements until 1966. State law prohibits bonding of a district to more than five per cent of assessed value at any time and this much must be sold to qualify for the aid fund.

As an answer to the question, "How will this bond issue affect taxes" the fact sheet states: . . . "the net increase for next year is 15.4 cent maximum over this year's rate (2.158 cents per $100).

"Converted to dollars and cents on the average Moraga home assessed for $7000 these bonds will cause a maximum increase of $11.16 per year or about $1 per month.

"The total bond repayment rate for the years 1962 to 1966 is estimated as about $28.50 per year for the Moraga taxpayer. Any construction of commercial or office buildings, country clubs or other improvements to assessed value without a corresponding increase in school attendance will reduce the above rates."

College Accreditation in Danger

'Shape of English' Hits At John Birch Society

Criticism of the John Birch Society is contained in "The Shape of English," a required freshman text in Contra Costa Junior College District, which has drawn fire from several residents at board of governors meetings, and has been of special interest to Superintendent Drummond McCunn.

Authored by Richard Worthen, a district instructor, the text reportedly was revised last year, and has been again withdrawn from district use next year for further revisions.

Worthen claimed his withdrawal of the book was in anticipation of criticism by Superintendent McCunn.

The reference to the John Birch Society, beginning on page 36, is a purposely scrambled version of a statement in the San Francisco Chronicle quoting Howard Jewel, assistant attorney general, former Orinda resident and onetime local Democratic candidate opposing Congressman John Baldwin.

The students are instructed to unscramble the statements.

Portions of the exercise are as follows:

"For the paranoid, life is a nightmare. Only he can see the enemy. As is apparent, the entire Birch phenomenon is redolent with strong overtones of paranoia, with the communists replacing the more conventional paranoid, "they."

". . . A few weeks ago newspapers carried a story stating that a prominent Bircher, at a conservative convention in Chicago, had rejected Barry Goldwater for his 'socialism' . . ."

". . . supporters of democracy welcome such discussion, for they know that a discussion which pits the philosophy of Birchism or communism against that of democracy can only serve to strengthen democracy . . ."

Civic Affairs Committee Hears Small City Mayor

"Incorporation is inevitable in any area that is growing when the majority feel it is the economic thing to do," so stated Harry Fledderman, immediate past chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda association.

Hastily adding, "We are not here to take a position on incorporation, only to study the pros and cons, much as we are watching what is happening in Pleasant Hill," Fledderman then introduced Robert Huber, mayor of Mill Valley.

Huber, a San Francisco trial attorney, told those assembled at the Orinda School Monday night that he was not there to advocate whether Orinda should or should not incorporate, but only to explain how incorporation had worked for Mill Valley.

"OUR CITY is a hill community, similar to Orinda," Huber explained. "We have no industry, due to the terrain we cannot expand to much, we are in essence a 'typical bedroom community' of commuting residents and local merchants. We have a population of 10,438 "

Huber told the group that control and service are the main thing to be considered in incorporation. Adding that local government is progressively becoming more prominent in California, Huber said that residents of unincorporated areas sometime pay more taxes than those within cities because of special tax districts, such as sanitary, fire, library, lighting or parking.

Mill Valley operates on a budget of $750,000 per year with an all inclusive tax rate of $8.02 per $100 assessed valuation, according to Huber.

REVENUE IS realized from state subventions, one per cent of all sales taxes, franchises, business licenses, parking meters and a nine-hole municipal golf course described by Huber as a "revenue maker," and property tax.

The budget includes operating the city's own fire and police departments, sanitary system and recreation program. The city gets help from the county on some services, such as library, public health and with city-county roads.

One of the advantages of incorporation pointed out by Huber was that of local control of zoning. "Zoning is controlled locally by the city council, all residents with local contacts, all familiar with the problems at hand, not by an isolated supervisor," he said.

MILL VALLEY has city manager government with 53 paid employees including police and firemen. The mayor and councilmen, elected to office, serve without pay.

Expenses of a suburban city can be pared, Huber explained by sharing expenses with other cities and counties. He used as examples buying fleets of automobiles, sharing road equipment with the county and purchasing supplies as a group.

Assessed valuation of Mill Valley is 18 million dollars (within city limits) about half that of Orinda's assessed valuation.

Several residents and committee members asked questions following Huber's discussion, however no action on incorporation was taken or recommended for further study.

For other committee business discussed Monday night see separate story.

Reserve McCunn Comments for Future Edition

The Sun was unable to contact Superintendent Drummond McCunn for his comments on the recent personnel problems in the Contra Costa Junior College District.

Several attempts were made to reach McCunn at his home and office, but although persons answering the phone seemed anxious to assist, contact was not made.

The Sun hopes to present Dr. McCunn's comments on recent charges in a future edition.

Secret Session Today; Public Meeting Monday

Announcement that another "executive" (secret) session of the Contra Costa Junior College board of governors will be held today was expected as The Sun went to press.

The board members met for four hours and 45 minutes in "personnel session" Monday night, and emerged from their Martinez district offices with "no comment."

During the session, they discussed Superintendent Drummond McCunn's recent statements favoring the John Birch Society and advocating elimination of some "socialist-slanted" district textbooks, resolutions of protests filed by teachers groups, resolutions of clarification filed by labor groups, and a complaint that he was the victim of a physical encounter filed by district teacher Wayne Hayden.

Superintendent McCunn was in the building but did not attend the closed session until the final hour and 35 minutes.

Four board members attended. George Gordon was absent, and is reported to be ill with influenza.

The next executive session will be the board's final preparation for the regular meeting next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium of Contra Costa College, 2801 Castro Road, San Pablo.

The meeting was earlier scheduled to be held in Martinez, but the change was made to provide what is expected to be a record crowd.

Editor Quits As McCunn Story Killed

Deletion of a story indicating that Superintendent Drummond McCunn checked out 90 copies of the controversial text book "Shape of English" from Diablo Valley College bookstore plus deletion of an editorial caused Contra Costa Times managing Editor William Botwright to resign he said earlier this week.

The story, which was to have been accompanied by a reproduction of a sales slip confirming McCunn's "purchase" of the 90 textbooks, also pointed out that McCunn denied taking the books during his speech during "college hour" January 10.

The story and the sales slip reproduction was subsequently published in the San Francisco Chronicle, and the story was also published in a later edition of the "Times" which explained that this was "by request of the publisher."

McCUNN, when contacted, said he was telling the truth when he said he did not purchase the books, and he merely had signed for them and taken them out "on consignment" for deposit in the district offices, where members of the public might examine them.

Botwright also commented that inquiries by Times' advertisers about the previous stories written about the college personnel problem had prompted the deletion of the "sales slip" story in the subsequent Times' edition.

Western College Group Wants 'Interim Report'

Diablo Valley College's status as an accredited institution where its graduates are eligible to attend first-class, upper-level universities, is in danger.

An interim report indicating improved communications and understanding between district administrators, including Superintendent Drummond McCunn, and the staff, including teachers, must be submitted within 18 months to the Accrediting Commission for Junior Colleges, Western College Association.

A special team may be sent at that time by the Accrediting Commission to the local campus for "further examination," according to a letter from Mitchell Briggs, executive secretary-treasurer for the Western College Association.

BRIGGS' LETTER announced the reaccreditation of the Diablo Valley College for the period from mid-1961 to June 30, 1966, but it indicated that the five-year period does not preclude "further examination" before that time.

The letter was accompanied by a survey report by the commission's visitation committee, which at that time included a college president, a college dean, a college director, a college business education chairman and others.

The interim report will also be concerned with the college's need for ". . . a more rapid development of facilities to accommodate the needs of the college," but the survey report indicates that the visitation committee had strong opinions on the college's "personnel problem."

The committee's recommendations, which may be the criteria for re-examination of the college accreditation status, included more consultation by administrators with staff, a rejuvenation of the personnel

Faculties Ask For New Study Of Jr. College

A new study of Contra Costa Junior College District's "personnel problem" by the Personnel Standards Commission of the California Teachers Association is being requested.

The faculty associations of both campuses have independently voted to request the personnel standards commission to make a study of what both groups consider an extremely serious situation.

The commission in 1959 made a study of the personnel problem as it existed then and issued a report which was critical of Superintendent Drummond McCunn. (See separate story summarizing the situation since 1958.)

IT WAS indicated that the CTA, which has headquarters in Burlingame, will first contact the district board of governors and Superintendent McCunn, asking for cooperation. But such cooperation is not a prerequisite to launching the study.

The commission in 1959 included junior college teachers, a schools superintendent, a high school principal, a junior college director, a school board member and others.

WC Has Doubts About Endorsing 'UN Pullout'; Schwarz Due Here

A hasty endorsement of "Anti-Communism Week" sponsored by the School of Anti-Communism, San Francisco Bay Region, is being reconsidered by the City of Walnut Creek on request of Councilman Douglas Page.

"This is the Fred Schwarz Anti-Communism Crusade, and is financed by extreme right-wingers, and it has been criticized by the San Francisco Chronicle and other papers," said Page.

"Although it pretends to be anti-communist, its actual purpose is to get the United States to pull out of the United Nations," Page told his colleagues at a meeting Wednesday night.

MAYOR FRED Sanders said the city's endorsement was actually a case where he signed a paper because it had been signed previously by several other mayors.

"With all this publicity, I'm beginning to wonder myself," Sanders mused.

City Manager Laverne Kimball noted that it is a question whether the city fathers want to consider this sort of endorsement as a "city function."

Actually, some 55 mayors in Northern California have endorsed "Anti - Communism Week" January 29 to February 2, according to Melcom Champlin, general chairman of the School of Anti-Communism, San Francisco Bay Region.

OTHER CITIES whose mayors have endorsed Anti-Communism Week, according to Champlin, include Berkeley, San Francisco, Concord, El Cerrito, Martinez, Oakland.

It was announced that Schwarz will speak tonight at a meeting of the Contra Costa Press Club, to be held in El Cerrito.

Schwarz will also deliver a lecture next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Acalanes High School gymnasium on "Communism and the Loss of Our Civil Liberties."

A local citizens committee, headed by Craig Bull of Orinda, arranged the lecture, according to Thomas Van Voorhis a Walnut Creek attorney, not a member of the group.

Van Voorhis said a partial list of sponsoring local residents includes the following: H. C. Bates of Moraga, Joseph Crownover and William Selb of Lafayette, Robert Tharratt of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Selma King of Pleasant Hill and Mrs. James Seaman of Orinda.

Family of the Week

IT'S ALL IN THE GAME, a favorite family pastime for the Walter and June Jameson family shown here around the game table in the living room of their El Toyonal home. Recent newcomers, just "two years old," the Jamesons were former Palos Verdes Estates residents in Southern California, have already become active in the community. Walter Jameson, manager of the Union Oil Company Oleum Refinery in Richmond, is a member of the board of trustees at Orinda Community Church, charter renewal chairman for the Or-La-Mo District Boy Scouts, a committeeman of Scout Troop 207 and a director of the Contra Costa County Development Association and a member of Orinda Country Club. Walt Jr., 15, is a Miramonte soph, a member of Troop 207 along with his brother Tom, 13, a Pine Grove 8th grader. A Brownie, Debra, 10, attends 4th grade at Orinda, while David, almost 7, is an Indian Guide and 1st grader at Orinda. They'll make room around the game table for one more, with a family addition expected early summer for June.

Religion for Laymen--- Two Classes Planned

Under the auspices of the Contra Costa Council of Churches, the Laymen's School of Religion will conduct classes in Orinda and Walnut Creek beginning January 29.

"Theology of the Living Church" will be taught by John Crossley. It will be an introduction to the nature and structure of the church and its doctrine in relation to political, economic, cultural and theological forces at work in the world today.

John Crossley received his B.A. from Pepperdine College in Los Angeles, his B.D. from Princeton, after which he served as a Navy chaplain for two years, then as a pastor.

HE IS instructor in theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and is completing his doctoral work in theology.

The course will be held on Wednesday nights for six weeks from 8-10 p.m. at the Orinda Community Church beginning January 31.

The second course to be offered by the Laymen's School of Religion will be "Biblical Faith and Human Existence," taught by Muriel James.

This will be a basic course to guide students through biblical material toward a self understanding of man's situation before God, and God's action toward's man.

IT WILL be held for six Tuesday mornings beginning January 30, 10-12 a.m., at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 1924 Trinity, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. James received her B.A. from the University of California, her B.D. from Church Divinity School of the Pacific, and is presently completing her doctoral work in adult education at the University of California.

She has also studied at Pacific School of Religion and San Francisco Theological Seminary. She has done graduate work in counselling and in her spare time serves as counsellor at Pacific School of Religion's pastoral counselling service.

Mrs. James is a resident of Lafayette (and mother of the boy who just floated down the Sacramento River).

BOTH OF the classes are open to any adult who is interested in seriously studying the Christian faith.

Classes may be audited or taken for credit. Registration fee is $12.

For further information call Mrs. Naida Mauthe or the Laymen's School office.

School Board Calls Adjourned Meeting Mon.

An adjourned meeting of the Orinda Union School District Board of Trustees will be held Monday night at the Pine Grove School at 7:30 p.m.

Frank Isola will present a report on the social activities and recreation program of the district.

Disaster Policy

A copy of policy for disaster evacuation procedure will be attached to every report card sent out by the Orinda Union School District.

Thi decision was made last week by members of the board of trustees soon after the board adopted the policy at the meeting January 8.

HERE IS the policy: "In the event of a local disaster, such as fire, flood, earthquake, or explosion, which may require the evacuation of children from any school premises during the school day, every effort will be made to transport the children to their regular bus stops except as noted.

"In the event of a local disaster, such as fire, flood, earthquake, or explosion, which may require evacuation of students from one or more schools, the children will assemble at pre-arranged locations on the school grounds and will be held there until a decision can ve reached by the district administration as to the need for complete evacuation.

"If complete evacuation is required, emergency arrangements will be made to route available busses to the damaged school or schools to accomplish such evacuation.

"If busses cannot be made available, the children will be sent home without supervision of school district personnel.

"In the event of an evacuation dictated by possible enemy attack, the following procedure will be followed:

"RED ALERT—Children who have been instructed by their parents to come home immediately will be released without supervision of school district personnel.

"Children who have been instructed to remain at school will take cover in the safest place in their classrooms and wait for the orders from Civil Defense headquarters to the school administration; upon termination of the red alert, the children will be sent home without supervision of school district personnel.

"YELLOW ALERT—Children will assemble at pre-arranged locations on the school grounds and will be dismissed to their homes immediately thereafter without supervision of school district personnel.

"The provisions of this policy will be made known to all parents annually, so that each child may be given whatever instruction is desired by the parents.

"Each scool will designate assembly areas to be used in the event evacuation becomes necessary."

TENNIS ACE Floyd Svensson is a well-rounded man indeed! While watching a football game on TV one rainy Sunday when he couldn't play tennis, the Diablo Valley College man pulled up a typewriter in front of the television & dashed off a science-fiction story about futuristic golf.

The short story appears in the current issue of Golf Digest & $ $ $ $ may we suggest that the next wet Sunday he write another one called "How I Made Writing a Tennis story while watching a Football game one rainy day when I couldn't play Tennis."

LOOK WHO'S CUTTING up on the lawn over at Miramonte! We thought it was an ice-tractor breaking up the thick frost but one whiff & sniff tells you that it was for the purpose of fertilizing the lawn. Ah, Spring is in the air & nobody's using the lawns!

NURSERY NOTE: Helen & Art Holmlund heading homeward last Mon. w/their brand new baby boy all bundled up in his bunting. Their Third!

SHOOTING THE BREEZE: WHEN AFS student Jean-Michel Sicre spoke at the recent Miramonte Parents' meeting, he said that what he liked best about our country was the amount of local government at state & county level, practically an unheard of thing in France.

WHAT THE French garcon misses most is, of course, a place to shoot the breeze, namely France's famed sidewalk cafes, natural meeting spots for students to discuss politics, girls, music, etc. . . . O wouldst there were such a common meeting ground for young people here. The fly in the ointment, is, of course, that Miramonte is decentralized, orientated as it is, away from the community; the kids disburse from their buses, some having to travel farther than from here to the Claremont Hotel, to get home—from one end of Orinda to the other.

PERHAPS when the Miramonte area is built up, then it will function as a central spot & afford some pleasurable place to take over where our generation's soda shoppes, Edy's Lakeshore, etc., left off. (Whatever happened to Ken Frederick's plans to put in an icerink next door to the Sporthaus ski shop. There was some mention of outdoor tables, too. What a grand idea!)

One parent pursued the idea if maybe sidewalk cafes weren't based on climatic conditions, but AFS-er Elisabeth Davidson said cold Sweden has many of the popular meeting spots outdoors. Perfectly tailored for both the brave & shy where the atmosphere is so informal that no one feels oddball joining in a group or casual conversation. N'est-ce pas, Jean-Michel?

ONE PAIR OF parents came away from the meeting waxing lyrical what a spot that Village Lucky's would be for a yr-round skating rink, adding lots of tables & chairs for folks who like to gather & gab. Got an extra cool million you don't know what to do with?

Something of Value

It seems we have the whole thing in reverse when you consider that there is much over-emphasis at 7th & 8th grade level on social & academic correlation while at high school level, the correlation of social w/academic life is almost lacking. Void of the spirit & camaraderie that should go hand-in-hand w/what is supposed to be The Best Years Of Their Lives. Where did we miss the boat—or when did the situation manage to become reversed?

HOW NOW, SACRED COW? The School Board is holding an adjourned meeting Mon. 8 PM in Pine Grove library for the purpose of giving parents the opportunity to air their viewpoints, to present constructive suggestions and/or recommendations re: 8th grade graduation, school policy on the social program, etc. It should be very interesting . . .

For one thing, let's give the graduation speeches back to the kids. One of the teachers plans the format for the ceremony & writes the polished words that the polished & very poised youngsters use in their addresses. (A summing up of their study of The Constitution.) Methinks, as do others who have learned this bit of info from the school office, that the children are more than capable of writing their own speeches.

Fire District Commissioners Delay Meeting

Orinda Fire District Commissioners have postponed a commission meeting scheduled for Thursday until January 31.

Thursday, the regularly scheduled meeting night conflicts with the Orinda Junior Chamber and The Sun's Award Banquet to be held at Mike Lynn's.

Fire Marshal Bill Koch of the Orinda Fire District will be honored as the Man of the Year at the banquet.

Civic Affairs Committee Elects Legge

Charles A. Legge of 228 Longview Terrace was elected chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association at the group's meeting Monday night at the Orinda School.

Eric Nielsen, association president, in congratulating Legge on his election commented, "The civic affairs-committee is the most important segment of the Orinda Association."

Legge, an attorney with the San Francisco firm of Bronson, Bronson and McKinnon, will serve a two-year term. He succeeds Harry Fledderman.

We Have Talent !

Actors, actresses, writers and artists by the numbers call Lafayette home, but now it seems the town is also bursting forth with singers.

Four members of the cast of "Brigadoon" which will open January 27, 8 p.m., Las Lomas High School, live in Lafayette and a fifth teaches school here.

In fact, Springhill School can claim three of the cast. Beverly McKeown, who plays the leading role of Fiona, is a resident of Springhill Road and a Springhill School parent.

Pearl Campbell (Mrs. Neal), who plays the part of a vendor, is vice-president of the Springhill School PTA and also lives on Springhill Road.

Lorene Colvin, who also plays the part of a vendor, teaches third grade at Springhill School. Fred Gandel of 3544 East View Drive, takes the part of Sandy in "Brigadoon." Gandel attends Diablo Valley College where he is a member of the famed Madrigal Singers.

Another Diablo Valley College student, Diane Luna of Birdhaven Court, plays the part of a vendor. She is also a member of the Madrigal Singers.

All are members of the Diablo Light Opera Company, producers of "Brigadoon." In addition to opening night, January 27, the show will go on February 2, 3 and 10.

A FLING in the Highlands is had by dancers Betty Moran of Alamo and Walt Dehlanger, who are in Brigadoon's cast of 40. Four performances are planned by Diablo Light Opera Company.

authoritarian edicts and the assumption that teachers are on a considerably lower plane than administration in professional competence all have been contributing factors in the deterioration of communication and staff morale."

The teachers who say they speak for all but a small minority of other teachers indicate the report is as valid today as it was in 1959.

HERE ARE SOME of its findings:

1. The teachers' main hope of communicating their interests to the board, the "Personnel Advisory Committee" was incorporated into the district's organizational chart in 1954, but it never functioned as intended.

The committee was to be concerned with morale, selection, orientation and promoting of teaching personnel, grievances, work-loads, etc. The superintendent was supposed to communicate the results to the board of governors.

2. Administrators, who also are intimately aware of teachers' sentiments, were discouraged from attending board meetings. Board members were not aware of this.

3. "BOARD MEMBERS participating in the study felt that it had been necessary to employ a district superintendent with certain authoritarian qualities and an ability to 'get tough'," said the report.

4. While the teachers believed McCunn submitted a sabbatical leave program to the board without faculty consultation, the program actually came from the board itself, and the board members assumed full responsibility.

5. Teachers believed that the board and administration did not regard them as individuals or professional people, but only as "technicians" or "hired hands."

6. Teachers said McCunn was "condescending," and he criticized faculty members "openly and unjustly in meetings . . . ridiculing us in front of others . . . "

7. TEACHERS' COMMENTS:

"He will say this today and that tomorrow."

"He says this to our campus and that to the other."

"He tells confidences in faculty meetings" and says, "If you tell what I told you I'll swear I never said it."

"He mentions his black book often."

8. "A SMALL MINORITY of teachers and administrators appearing before the commission expressed loyalty to and confidence in the superintendent . . . "

9. Small matters: McCunn without consulting the staff changed the college hour, decided to require midterm grades, eliminated writing and reading workshops, changed the cafeteria schedule to accommodate the Kiwanis luncheon . . . "

10. McCunn "played" an administrator or teacher against another, using a "divide and conquer" technique.

11. McCunn's meetings with the faculty often turned into "spanking sessions."

12. However, no one advocated any change in personnel (in the 1959 report).

13. THERE WAS NOT sufficient effort by the teachers' associations to "sit down with the superintendent and discuss problems . . . " but the superintendent also did not take a strong initiative either.

14. If the teachers' views are not presented, or are presented inaccurately to the board, the teachers have a right to seek a direct audience with the board, decided the study group.

The report recommended a resurrection of the Personnel Advisory Committee to full status, more meetings between the groups concerned, adherence to channels of communication.

The report warned that if a remedy were not reached soon, there would be a serious effect on the educational welfare of the district's students.

NO MARKED CHANGE in the situation was made after the report, but about a year ago Superintendent McCunn suggested that top administrators and some teachers get together and talk things over.

The result was the creation of "The Forum," which was added to the district's organizational chart.

"The Forum" was supposed to provide a means by which teachers' organizations could make their viewpoints heard, and communicated by McCunn to the board.

Disappointment for the teachers followed, as they claimed no headway was made in subsequent meetings.

The next source of irritation between faculty and McCunn was his decision to initiate a "test file," which the teachers considered only a means of "checking up" on them.

DURING THE COURSE of the struggle, it developed that the college directors became in effect a "buffer" between the teachers and McCunn, and became subject to pressures from both sides.

According to the CTA report, the Diablo Valley faculty generally "expressed almost complete satisfaction" with their director, Karl Drexel.

Last year, the board members, after an executive session met in a regular session to vote unanimously not to downgrade Director Drexel to another job.

It was learned that McCunn had sought to replace Drexel.

This was one of several board actions which did not meet with the superintendent's approval, and it appeared that the former days of complete rapport between superintendent and board were gone, although McCunn continued to have strong support from some members.

THE DISTRICT'S long-standing "personnel" problem did not diminish, but there were no new crises until Superintendent McCunn granted an interview in San Francisco, December 6, where he said he "commended" the John Birch Society "on one point only," where it exposes the Communist conspiracy.

He also said during a conference in San Francisco that "We have liberty under California law to teach about socialism but not to advocate it," adding that many textbooks eliminate patriotic references.

A few days later a daily county newspaper carried a story where McCunn in another interview said he believed that certain textbooks used in the district and selected by district teachers were "socialist slanted."

Then on December 11, a resident, Phillip Gilbert, attended the district board meeting in Martinez and spoke against a district English textbook authored by district teacher Richard Worthen, titled "The Shape of English."

DURING THE MEETING, a faculty association officer read a statement asking whether teachers were being directed " . . . to avoid support of any measure which has elements which might be construed as 'socialistic.' "

The letter referred to existing public measures, including public power, public bridges, public schools, social security, etc.

McCunn in succeeding days made public statements and wrote letters to the effect the state education code forbids a teacher to "support" any measure. He emphasized public power, where private utility companies pay large amounts of taxes to the district.

Another aftermath of the December 11 meeting was an altercation between teacher Wayne Hayden and a senior district official where Hayden said there was direct physical contact. Hayden is considered to be a McCunn supporter.

BY THE TIME the district governors met again January 8, Hayden's complaint, four resolutions from teachers' groups and two resolutions from labor organizations criticizing McCunn were in their hands. One teacher resolution called for McCunn's replacement.

Board Chairman William Kretzmer managed to keep a large crowd of McCunn supporters from airing the matter after a board decision to consider the entire problem in "executive" secret session.

Next came the "college hour" on January 10, where McCunn defended his statements and answered a number of questions. He said he hopes to prevent "damage" to the minds of young students by removing certain textbooks, which he refused to identify. The board has approved a further study of the district texts.

McCunn also refused to condemn or approve of fascism, Hitler or Mussolini, but said his reply would require documentation.

The board of governors held a four-hour executive session on Monday, and plans to hold another secret session before their next meeting next Monday, when the teachers and labor groups' resolutions, also Hayden's complaint, will be considered.

Safeway Store Robbed; 3 Burglaries Reported

An armed bandit made off with between $200 and $500 when he forced the assistant manager of the Lafayette Safeway to open the store safe early Sunday morning.

Three other business establishments also reported burglaries to the sheriff's substation in Lafayete at the end of last week.

The Safeway robber, who wore an olive drab stocking over his head, beat Robert Pengelly, 36, with his pistol for 15 minutes while Pengelly tried to open the safe.

While this was going on, a sheriff's deputy sat in his car outside the building checking a disturbance on the other side of Mt. Diablo.

PENGELLY told deputies that he left the store shortly after midnight Saturday and after starting up his car the bandit came running up to the car waving a gun. Pengelly had locked up the store after the other employees left.

As he ran up, the man shouted "Turn off the motor, turn off your lights, we're going back."

Pengelly was told not to look back as he was marched to the store entrance on Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

The bandit ordered Pengelly to open the office safe, and then struck the assistant manager several times around the head with his gun when he didn't work the safe combination properly the first few times.

As Pengelly fumbled with the combination, the robber exclaimed that "I used to work in a Louis store and I know assistant managers can open the safe."

Pengelly was bleeding freely from his wounds by the time he opened the safe.

HE WAS then told to lay face down on the floor and tied up.

After scooping out the money in the outer portion of the safe, the bandit shoved the money into a carton and picked up 11 bottles of whiskey.

At this time, he noticed the sheriff's patrol car in the parking lot outside.

He then asked Pengelly how to get out by the rear of the store and apparently left by that exit.

Other burglaries late last week took place in Lafayette, Rheem and Orinda.

Last Wednesday night, Kelly's, sporting goods, 3707 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, was looted of numerous rifles and pistols, as well as an undetermined amount of cash.

Cecil Kelly, owner of the store, reported the crime Thursday when he arrived for work at 9 a.m.

The store was entered through an unlocked second-story window. A ladder was used to reach the window.

A BURGLAR apparently hid in the Center Hardware, 7 Center Street, Rheem, last Thursday night at closing time, then took approximately $70 from the cash drawer, owner Chet Clark reported Friday morning.

The burglar rifled all the files in the office while consuming most of a bottle of whiskey that Clark kept in a desk drawer.

Clark told deputies that the store was completely secure when he arrived for work and there were no signs of forced entry.

County Hairdressers, 99 Orinda Way, Orinda, lost about $50 in cash when someone entered the building and forced a cash drawer last Friday night.

Hazel Gaspari, an employee, noticed the back door ajar when she unlocked the store Saturday morning.

There were no signs of forced entry, deputies said.

A screwdriver from a rear supply room was used to force the cash drawer.

Editor Quits As McCunn Story Killed

Times publisher Dean Lesher later wrote an editorial denying there was any "pressure" exerted on the Times by the John Birch Society or "any other group," adding that such pressure if attempted would be resisted.

Botwright told the Concord Transcript he didn't give the story of his resignation to the Chronicle, and whoever did erred in saying he resigned over the decision to take his editorial criticizing McCunn off the front page.

Actually, the decision to delete the "sales slip" story prompted his resignation said Botwright, who has been Times' managing editor for several months.

THE TEXTBOOK, written by Richard Worthen, was originally criticized during a December 11 board of governor's meeting by Phillip Gilbert of Walnut Creek. Gilbert cited what he considered to be immoral passages.

Superintendent McCunn has not stated exactly what he finds unusual about the "Shape of English," although there is a lengthy discussion unfavorable to the John Birch Society beginning on Page 36. (See separate story).

McCunn has said he is also displeased with an economics book, which faculty members have identified as "Semuelson's Economics," considered a standard text.

McCunn has asked the board of governors to consider his recommendations concerning certain "socialist slanted" textbooks, and the governors have voted to study the matter further.

McCunn has refused to list the suspected books, pending board study.

Faculties Ask For New Study Of Jr. College

eral months before the results were published.

These resolutions are the latest in a series of resolutions passed by faculties of both campuses.

THEIR ACTION first followed McCunn's announcement criticizing some district textbooks for being "socialist-slanted," although only one book was named.

Their actions also followed McCunn's qualified commendation of the John Birch Society.

Most extreme was a resolution indicating that McCunn should be "replaced," voted, 55-18, by the overall faculty at the Contra Costa College campus in San Pablo.

On the Diablo Valley campus, the overall faculty passed, 64-20, a resolution calling for a board vote of "no confidence" in McCunn, and referring to McCunn's attack on the textbooks and "years of crisis and conflict."

THE OVERALL faculty of Diablo Valley also passed another resolution supporting board chairman William Kretzmer's statement disassociating himself from McCunn's Birch Society statement.

The faculty association on the Diablo Valley campus merely requested a "clarification" whether the superintendent was speaking for the board.

The faculty association of the Contra Costa campus passed a resolution supporting Kretzmer's statement.

Other resolutions asking the board to disassociate itself from McCunn's John Birch statements were passed by the Central Labor Council and the Building Trades Council.

Marionettes Are on Display at Library

On exhibit in the children's area of the Central-Pleasant Hill Library are a few of the marionettes from the collection of Mrs. Edwin R. Shirey, Walnut Creek.

Patterns showing the process of this simple cloth and cotton marionette are also on display.

The marionettes will remain in the library throughout the month of January.

advisory committee, which is an agent by which faculty members may air grievances and make their opinions heard.

THE SURVEY report says, "While it is the opinion of the team that the educational program at Diablo Valley College has not been impaired seriously to date (March, 1961) by the personnel relationship tensions which have occurred, it is concerned about the future.

". . . If these types of tensions continue to arise they can disturb the educational climate of the institution . . ."

Recommendations include the following:

"That the district administration continue to seek the study and recommendation of faculty committees on educational matters, particularly those dealing with courses, examinations, grading practices, degree requirements and instructional facilities . . ."

"THAT BOTH the superintendent and faculty try to use the monthly faculty meetings and the monthly personnel advisory committee meetings to interpret and define relationships and matters where there is honest difference of opinion . . ."

"That the faculty recognize the problems that the trustees and superintendent have in being directly responsible to the people for the educational policies of the college and the district."

Grand Jury Foreman Has Resigned

Dana Sprague, foreman of the Contra Costa County Grand Jury, has submitted his resignation effective "immediately" due to his transfer to Birmingham, Alabama.

Superior Judge Martin Rothenberg said he will appoint a new foreman later, and another grand jury member will be picked from the 11 remaining panel members.

Sprague is a resident of Hercules and has been plant manager for the Hercules Powder Company.

Jim Weaver Resigns at St. Mary's

St. Mary's College basketball coach Jim Weaver announced yesterday that he had submitted his resignation effective at the end of the current season.

Weaver made the announcement himself and declined to give any reason.

The resignation was not expected.

His current three-year contract expires in June.

Weaver, 43, a DePaul alumnus, is in his seventh season at St. Mary's.

Prior to coming to St. Mary's, he was a high school coach in Chicago.

Under Weaver, the Gaels had won 103 games and lost 63.

His 1958-59 team won the West Coast Athletic Conference title and an invitation to the NCAA tourney. St. Mary's reached the Western Regional finals before losing to California. The Bears went on to win the national championship.

After losing All-American Tom Meschery via graduation, the Gaels were expected to be a so-so team this season.

To date they have a 6-6 record and are 1-1 in WCAC play.

Nejedly Says Brown Act Was Violated

District Attorney John Nejedly has given the opinion that a meeting Tuesday at 4 p.m. of the County Civil Service Commission did not meet the requirements of the Brown (Anti-Secrecy) Act because public notice was not given 24 hours in advance.

F. E. Emory, the commission's personnel director, sent notice Tuesday afternoon to newspapers of the afternoon session to precede the regular 8 p.m. session that night.

The commissioners themselves are differing on whether their "briefing" sessions have been in violation of the Brown Act, and Commissioners George Kelley and William Ellis have refused to attend such sessions concerning personnel matters.

The Brown Act was on the agenda Tuesday night, and the commissioners disagreed along the same lines as in the past, with Kelly and Ellis saying there is a violation.

Hospital's Impact Great

The John Muir Hospital, if and when it is built on Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek, will employ some 300 persons, bringing another $1½ millions in personal income to the area each year, with a resulting rise in retail sales and bank deposits.

There will be some 850 new residents, when the employee's families are counted, and their demands will create perhaps 220 new jobs in other fields, according to estimates base on U.S. Chamber of Commerce figures.

Alfred Layton of Diablo, campaign chairman for the nonprofit hospital, said estimates are also that the new employees will bring demands for new services sufficient to support from 10 to 12 new retail establishments. There will be some 320 new car registrations, and 210 new telephones.

THE BENEFITS will flow to grocery stores, eating places, auto dealers, service stations, building materials firms, real estate, clothing and shoe stores, department stores, dry goods stores and similar institutions, Layton said.

"On this basis, we hope to get firms in our last ditch drive to the full support of our business raise the final $60,000 needed to qualify for the federal and state governments' $2½ millions," he added.

"The federal and state grant plus a loan which will be made to the hospital and the cash which must also be raised to finance the $4 million hospital under the terms of the Hill-Burton Grant," he continued.

Antone Cvietusa, manager of the Walnut Creek Bank of America, is campaign finance chairman, and is directing the business division drive, said Layton.

AN ATTEMPT is being made to resolicit local businessmen who have given in previous canvassing, as well as those who have not, said Cvietusa.

Donations and pledges are welcomed in any amount, Cvietusa said.

"If the small share of financing still required in local contributions is not raised by February 15, it is felt that the community does not sufficiently want or need the new hospital, and the Hill-Burton Grant of federal and state funds will go elsewhere, said Dr. Fred M. Hanson, chairman of the hospital board.

Many merchant and theater house managers plan to include John Muir Memorial Hospital slogans in advertising.

A LARGE display window, and hospital campaign information booth to be staffed by the auxiliary, are being arranged in Capwell's Walnut Creek store.

Public service announcements and tape recorded interviews supporting the hospital drive are being carried by FM and AM radio stations heard in this area.

Newspaper support at this stage of the hospital drive is particularly gratifying, said Hanson.

"The help you give today may save your life tomorrow" is the theme of 50 hospital posters being distributed or display in local stores.

Each has a holder carrying mail-in envelopes not requiring postage, for convenience in mailing contributions or pledges by February 15.

THROUGH the efforts of Farrell Barber of Walnut Creek, the printing of 20,000 informative hospital folders has been donated.

These will be used in the general canvass beginning February 6 by members of the auxiliary and other volunteers.

House-to-house soliciting is planned to put the drive "over the top."

Moraga District Science Program Gets $1400

Moraga schools have been granted $1,400 under the National Defense Education Act to further the science program, it was announced at a meeting of district trustees January 10 in Camino Pablo School.

Also, Dr. Stanley Brown, head of science education in the University of California School of Education, will act as science consultant. His services were obtained through the State Department of Education.

Doctor Brown, a Stanford graduate, is a resident of Orinda.

The fund will go toward the acquisition of science equipment and the beginning of a science library for the elementary schools in the district, according to Superintendent William H. Knight.

He says they expect to acquire 235 books, demonstration tables, microscopes, electrical apparatus and many other materials needed to further the science program. Room has been set aside and equipment will be placed in both Camino Pablo and Rheem Schools.

Moraga School District will hold a bond election January 23 to incur a bonded indebtedness of $350,000 for the district.

Award Banquet Will Honor Fire Marshall

Representative John Knox will be the guest speaker at the Man of the Year award banquet Thursday at Mike Lynns.

Sponsored by the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce and The Sun, festivities will beign with no-host cocktails at 6:30 p.m., with dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Honoring Fire Marshal Bill Koch, unanimous choice for Man of the Year by the 1962 selection committee, the banquet will attract many prominent fire officials as well as Orinda residents and friends of the honored man.

Among those attending will be Jay W. Stevens of 33 Valley Drive, Director of Fire Prevention, International Association of Fire Chiefs.

Stevens will also speak in honor of Koch. A long-time Orinda resident, Stevens has served the International Association of Fire Chiefs for 38 years. He also served at state fire marshal of California for 17 years, with many years of service also credited to various other organizations pertinent to his profession.

Sun Publisher Herman Silverman will present the Man of the Year Award to Koch.

Reservations for the banquet may be made with any member of the Junior Chamber or through Clarence Betz, secretary of the Orinda Fire District Commission, CL 4-4141.

Scouts Name Sustaining Membership Chairmen

Don Blackwood of Lafayette, Orlamo Boy Scout District finance chairman, has announced the appointment of Fred Twining, Orinda, and Robert Vincent, of Lafayette, as chairman of their respective community sustaining membership enrollments, which are scheduled for February 15, kick-off.

A business consultant, Twining has been an active committee chairman with Troop 207, sponsored by the Orinda Lions Club. Vincent is active in Lafayette scouting as Troop 204 committee chairman, and has been institutional representative of the Glenside Improvement Association former sponsors of Pack 238. He was active in 1961 on the district new units committee and helped to organize five Scout troops, two Explorer posts, and a Cub pack.

"Sustaining members are usually parents of boys in scouting, and other adults who are interested in financial support of the scouting program," Blackwood explained.

The Orlamo District includes 44 separate units — Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer units, in Orinda, Lafayette and Moraga. There are currently more than 1400 boys active in these units.

James L. Moore of Happy Valley is district chairman.

Chamber Studies Use of P.O. Site As Parking Lot

Directors of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce met yesterday to appoint a director to replace Al Baer who is moving from the area.

Also on the agenda for the meeting which took place after The Sun went to press was a discussion of possible use of the post office site for parking.

Betz said the directors would explore methods of use with the aim of presenting a financially sound idea to interest Donald Rheem, owner of the property.

At last week's chamber meeting Ken Courtright, president, said the committee to study possible use of the Chabot and Lafayette Reservoirs for recreational purposes would make their report later this month.

C. P. Tanner of East Bay Water told the chamber that work on the Briones Dam was now 31 per cent complete. Everett Ham, custodian of the new masonic lodge on Altarinda Way, told the chamber the building was available for all types of social gatherings.

Postmaster Laura Mallary advised the chamber that February 15 should be the opening date for the new post office, but that March 1 was a more realistic date.

Clarence Betz, chamber secretary, reported he would follow up with the county in regard to the bus turnout. He said that 5,000 new chamber business directories will be available to residents in about two weeks.

The hearing is now scheduled for February 15. And as such should be allowed the same opportunity as medical and dental offices and medical clinics to be established in a Transition Residential Agricultural District (R-A) after the granting of a land use permit.

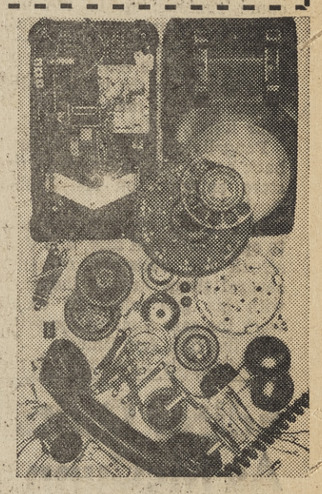
WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

You wouldn't think so to look at it, but your telephone is a really complex arrangement of 472 separate precision parts. Spread out, they'd cover a desk top! Yet teams of skilled people at Western Electric, manufacturer for the Bell System companies, can make a phone from scratch in just about 45 minutes.



At Western Electric's main plant some 30,000 telephones a day come off the assembly lines. This takes plenty of technical know-how. It also takes a constant search for new and more efficient processes, tools, and work methods.

The result of this teamwork: keeping up with California's and the nation's fast-growing telephone needs with high quality products that help us serve you better.

Hats Off To...

Dorothy Barden, Lady Who Is Young in Heart

A FRIENDSHIP BOUQUET of first spring flowers, please, for Dorothy Barden, that distinguished white-haired lady whose wit, charm, foresight and friendliness have contributed for 24 years to the good and growth of her community.

A founder of the first Orinda Community Church (then housed in the old Birdwell building across the bridge in the village), Dorothy served as Women's Guild president in 1940, was active in the first PTA at the one Orinda School where she participated in the unusual story-telling program for the eight grades, the purpose of which was to raise money for victims of war in other countries and to encourage world citizenship among the youngsters. Each of the eight grades represented a different country and $4000 was raised over a period of four years.

AFTER SON STEVE was grown (he's now educational director of California Credit Union League) the civic-minded lady was seldom missing from meetings of Civic Affairs, Orinda Association, Community Church and School Board. She is a charter member as well as a past president of the Orioles Unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center and currently volunteers as cashier at the Therapy's Terrace Tearoom, is active in Democratic circles, Orinda Democrats, Orinda Council for Civic Unity, and a volunteer for the Contra Costa County Heart Association.

As a hobby, she collects antique costumes to match husband Lance's enviable collection of antique horseless carriages, the newest addition being a 1913 Metz which the recently retired area director of the Federal Bureau of Credit Unions now has time to refurbish.

THE YOUNG-in-heart Bardens, both graduates of Grennell College, Iowa, are grandparents of two girls, live at 44 Crestview Drive. There is no time for "settling down" for this active couple who lived in Europe, Panama and the Hawaiian Islands before their move here in 1938.

Matadors, College Boards Mix in Merry MHS Whirl

By KITTY MIKA AND ANN LINCOLN

The semester is nearing an end and panic is hitting Miramonte students as the week of finals approaches. Still, MHS students find time for parties, and a million and one other activities.

Friday night was a sad one for the Matadors. A close game between Miramonte and San Ramon took place in the San Ramon gym. It was an exciting game, and the crowd was tense —the Matadors had the lead the whole second half, but lost in the last few seconds.

DID SOMEONE say 13 was an unlucky number?? I'm sure quite a few MHS seniors and juniors will agree to that after taking the College Boards on Saturday—the 13th of course. Some of those struggling through the three-hour long SATs in the morning were Brad Harlan, Pat Kelly, Steve Miller, Judy Hopkins, Betty Schoppe, Jean Gleason, Carol Thompson, and Bob Williams.

Some brave students came back at 1:30 p.m. and took three Achievement Tests—there were quite a few weary, but relieved students, with that "I'm glad that it's all over with" look, leaving the campus at 5:30 p.m.

Saturday night was a night for parties and relaxation. Bob Miller had a party for the younger classmen. The guests who were there talking and dancing were Doug Dermit and Kathy Adams, Chrissy Voll and Bill Cooper and Bob and Joyce Thompson.

Mike Chance also had a small get-together on Saturday night. Panic hit those at the party when Marc Jacobs lost one of her contacts—it seems everyone there joined in the search.

AMONG THOSE having a great time were Mike and Ann Lincoln, Greg Peterson and Pat Canfield, Pam Pearson and John Rielly, Marc Jacobs and Skip Spaich, Linda Van Sickle and Roger Howard, Cheri Romer and Roger McCosker, Candy Hackler and Kieth St. Clair, and Charlie Ward and his date.

It seems Jay Grilli is getting a lot of visitors out at Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek. Quite a few MHS students have given up some of their precious homework hours to see Jay.

The expressions on the faces of physiology students dissecting their sheep's heart are something that no one should miss!!

Everyone be sure and come to the big game tonight and see the Matadors beat the Dons.

DON'T MISS the chance to twist, twitch and wail at "Off Beat," sponsored by Ailanthus Branch of Children's Hospital. Casual clothes will be in style, so be sure and get your ticket.

Coming up soon: The Bobbies are putting on a semi formal dance at the Brazilian Room in Tilden Park, so keep the date of February 3rd open.

Landscape Architects Honor W. P. Mott, Jr.

It took nearly three months to do it, but Oakland Park Superintendent William Penn Mott Jr. of 62 Ardilla Road and one of his latest awards finally got together last Friday.

Mott was to have received the honor award of the California Council of Landscape Architects, making him their "Man of the Year," at a meeting in Sacramento on September 21.

Since it was to have been a surprise, he wasn't told about the presentation—and he wound up addressing the League of Oregon Cities in Portland that night instead.

The California Council learned that Mott was to speak at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the American Society of Landscape Architects, Northern California Chapter, in the Lakeside Park Garden Center on Friday, and seized on this as an opportunity to make the award. Since are members of both groups, nc most of the landscape architects one felt left out.

Presented by Douglas Baylis, president of the ASLA chapter, the award cites Mott for his "tireless and inspiring work for wider recognition of the landscape architectual profession, emphasizing the value of professional planning of the cityscape and country scape."

Subject of Mott's talk during the meeting was "How to Sell Professional Landscape Architect Services to a Political Jurisdiction."

Superintendent of Oakland parks since 1946, Mott has served two terms as president of the American Institute of Park Executives. He is a graduate of Michigan State College, and has an M.A. in landscape architecture from the University of California in Berkeley.

Jaycees Hear CHP Officer Accident Talk

Officer H. L. Lesley of the California Highway Patrol was the guest speaker at the January 9 business meeting of the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce.

His subject was prevention of accidents. Lesley stated that Contra Costa County had more vehicles per mile of road than any other similar area in the United States, thereby increasing the probability of accidents. He also indicated that speed and drunken driving were the prime cause of accidents.

In the event of an accident, Officer Lesley stressed the importance of seat belts in reducing injuries and fatalities. Lesley stated that the best means of accident prevention was through public education to drive defensively with the other drivers' actions in mind and the moral responsibility to maintain safe driving procedures at all times.

Science Students Will Participate In TV Program

Two Miramonte students, Ken White and Steve Cantrill, will appear on KRON-TV, 7 p.m., January 22 to present a special project they have been conducting in connection with the Miramonte Parents' Club's Science Seminar.

The boys were recommended by the science staff of the high school for their appearance on "Science in Action," a program which, in addition to presenting the latest world-wide science progress, devotes its last miutes to achievements by local teen-agers.

CANDIDATES for the program are nominated by science teachers, through branch managers of the Wells Fargo Bank- American Trust Company, sponsor of the TV series.

Ken's and Steve's Science Seminar project have been experimenting with the Hilsch Vortex Tube, a postwar German invention. Its function is to channel air particles according to high and low energy content toward opposite ends of the tube, with a temperature range from two degrees to 223 degrees Fahrenheit at extreme ends of the tube.

IN THEIR attempts to understand the mechanics of the tube's operation, the boys have been forcing compressed air into the tube, and may try the effects of the tube upon gases. If efficiency of the operation can be improved, it would be a step toward possible practical application for refrigeration purposes.

Assisting the project has been Bud Loveland, one of the parent-sponsors of the seminar, who has given the boys encouragement and practical assistance in his home workshop. Student membership in the Science Seminar is by invitation only, on the basis of outstanding interest in their school program.

Active Year Planned by Moraga Lions

The Moraga Lions Club kicked off the New Year at their regular bi-monthly meeting last week at the Moraga Barn. An ambitious program of events for the remainder of President Jim Barcelon's term was announced and discussed.

It was announced that first vice-president, John DeGuarda, would represent the Moraga group at the forthcoming Lions International District Convention to be held January 17, 18 and 19 at Anaheim. DeGuarda is on the district governor's cabinet and will act as the head of the election committee at the district convention.

The Moraga Club is arranging a program for the next meeting that will feature an entertaining evening when Moraga will host delegates of the Orinda, Lafayette and Danville Lions Clubs.

INITIAL concrete plans were formulated for a major project in the form of a community luau to be held the first week of June. The club, through the cooperation of Lion, John DeGuarda, is raising three young pigs that will be barbecued at the community luau.

Ambitious preliminary plans have been formulated by Lion Art Fleuti for this event that is hoped to be the biggest project ever to be promoted in the Moraga Lions Club.

Lion member, Hank Martin, announced that information booklets have been obtained on "Fallout and Fallout Shelters" and in turn will be included with a first aid kit and mouth to mouth resuscitator but that will be made available to local residents in the near future at a nominal cost.

SEVERAL YEARS ago the Moraga Lions Club purchased and presented to the Moraga Fire Department a life saving resuscitator. However, with the rapid growth in the area, with the increase of many home swimming pools and with the coming of summer, it is felt by the Moraga Lions Club that every home should be equipped with these life saving emergency kits.

Consequently, the club has undertaken this community project as a service to the area.

Charles Wright was introduced to the club and presented facts and figures and the need for a "yes" vote at the forthcoming school bond election. It was announced by committee member Al Baitx, that District Attorney John Nejedly will speak to the club at the first meeting in February.

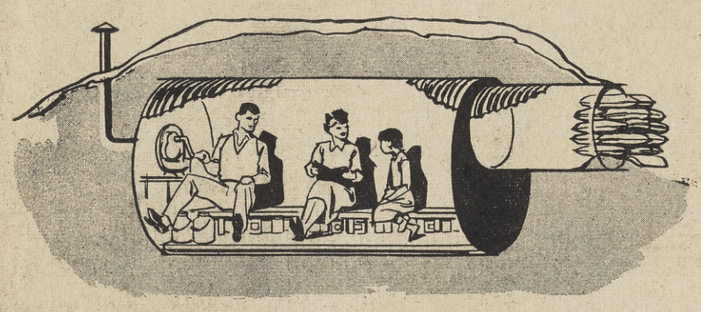
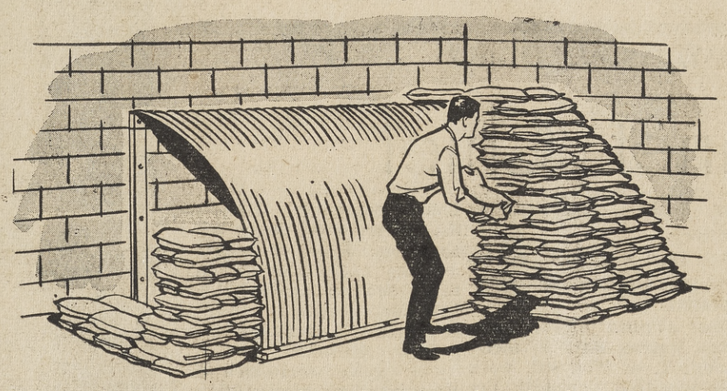
Planning an Addition Around the House?





THESE FALLOUT SHELTERS may be all right for people living in more remote areas of the United States, but check with your county or city building inspector before following the advice of the new U.S. Department of Defense pamphlet, "Fallout Protection." The pamphlet says the underground shelter shown can be built in the back yard for $150, but this has aroused local skepticism. The other shelter, for four persons in a basement corner, is made of curved asbestos-cement sheets, covered with sandbags. The government pamphlet says this rig would cost $125.

Jr. College Trustees Must Find the Answer

Drummond McCunn, superintendent of the Contra Costa Junior College District, has become a controversial figure in the past few weeks.

Consequently, the governing board of the district, and above all the people, to whom the district belongs, have a problem to face and to resolve.

This is not going to be done through emotionalism and through shouting, but through a realization of the political, emotional and practical facts of the situation.

First of all, let us realize that the junior college is not going to fold up because of the present controversy. However, the prestige, the reputation and the effectiveness of the college as a teaching and learning institution is at stake.

THERE HAS BEEN a running battle, sometimes quiet, sometimes breaking into the open, for years between McCunn, the faculty, and the California Teachers Association when it was brought into the picture.

Three years ago the CTA, upon the request of the faculty and with the approval of Dr. McCunn, did a personal standards report on the junior college.

Later the board repudiated the study, but representatives of the CTA say that the recommendations still stand and that the situation is essentially the same now as it was three years ago when the study was made.

Controversy and unrest existed then, and they still do.

THERE SEEMS to be little rapport between the faculty and the chief administrator—or, if you prefer, little communication between the administrator, the faculty and the governing board.

There have been disagreements between Dr. McCunn and the faculty . . . Right or wrong, no matter on which side, it is Dr. McCunn's job to straighten these things out, because the responsibility for administrating a functioning faculty is his as superintendent.

In three years, there still seems to be some question as to whether or not this has been accomplished.

From the past history, which we have reviewed and which you can review briefly in the recommendations appearing in the other editorial on this page, it is easy to see that there has been turmoil and confusion.

WE FEEL that the original CTA recommendations should be reviewed at this time. Representatives of the CTA have said that they are willing to come in and do another study if they are so requested. But they have also said that the recommendations that they originally made, most of which they feel have not been acted upon, still stand.

Some way or other, the battle has continually revolved around Dr. McCunn, which makes him the controversial figure referred to in the beginning paragraphs of this editorial.

This is not only a question of Dr. McCunn's views—of the John Birch Society—or of conservatism or liberalism. The Junior College is vital to us. It is a large educational unit. It has done a good job in the past of educating thousands of our youngsters and it is imperative that it remain in a position to continue.

Here, we have a real problem.

TRUSTEE Harmon Howard summed up the danger when he said, "We are wrecking the reputation we have built up over the years. We pledge that we will continue to work for a solution to this problem of personality cleavage. The district won't be able to weather many more of these cleavages."

The board is going to have to deal with the problem face-on. It may have already done so in executive session held last Monday. The board will have to act because now the people are involved, emotionally and actually.

And the board will have to be right.

Unpleasant as this situation is, it must be faced. In the past, such situations have been passed off lightly. Now, this cannot be done. It must be examined closely by the people, and by the board, and the representative of the people.

It is not over yet.

We Like It Here . . .
Chapter 2 of the New Suburbia Primer

SEE THE little housewife.

She is very thin.

THIN, THIN, Thin.

Just plain run down.

That is because the busy little thin housewife has to run around so much.

SHE runs in circles.

Run, little housewife, run.

Take Johnny to the Dentist.

Take Jane to the Orthodontist.

Take Debby to her dancing lesson.

Take Tom to his Tennis lesson.

RUN, little housewife, run.

RUN, RUN, RUN.

When you are tired of running around, little housewife, sit down.

Sit down before you fall down.

Sit down in your little house.

SEE the mess.

Big, big mess. Little, little house.

That is because the little thin housewife can't be home in her little house.

The little thin housewife can't clean house because she is busy run, run, running.

SHE has no time to run, run, run with the broom.

She has no time to run, run the vacuum.

She spends all her time running with her children.

The little thin housewife will have a cup of coffee.

Hot, hot coffee. Coffee, coffee, coffee . . . 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, cups of coffee.

IT is called a TV dinner. Easy, easy dinner. Little, little dinner

The children eat the easy little TV dinner while they watch TV.

That is what it was invented for. Also for little thin housewives who run around in circles.

The little thin housewife will never get fat. Not on Coffee & TV dinners.

She will just get thinner . . . & more tired.

Thinner, thinner. Tired, tired.

That is because she runs around so much.

RUN, RUN, RUN . . .

Letters to The Editor

HISTERICAL
Dear Editor:

Let's call off this hysterical persecution of Dr. Drummond J. McCunn. After all, he did not endorse the John Birch not endorse the John Birch Society and its methods. He merely said he commended the society for taking a stand against communism. And aren't all real Americans against communism!

Dr. McCunn has as much right to express mild approval of an anti-communist organization as his detractors have to condemn it.

Remember that Dr. McCunn is the school administrator who arranged the first lecture series on the evils of communism to be held in Northern California.

Those who join Robert L. Condon in this persecution of a patriotic American are, knowingly or unknowingly, dupes of the communist crusade of anti-anti-communism.

Let's listen to our level-headed board president, William J. Kretzmer. Most people will agree that he speaks in a true spirit of Americanism.

EVANGELINE WINKLER

JOHN BIRCH
Dear Editor:

Your January 5 issue contained, in addition to your "give us hell plea," three letters which did just that in criticizing your rather liberal views on the Birchers, Dr. McCunn, etc.

Please consider this a vote of confidence in your efforts to weigh the available evidence and arrive at logical conclusions expressed concisely in your editorials.

The world (including Contra Costa County) is currently in need of a great deal of straight thinking not biased by the "I've got mine, how're you doing?" approach and it is a pleasure to have a courageous newspaper in the area.

OMISSION
Dear Editor:

The fine article in The Sun of last week about the Happy Valley walkway is very much appreciated.

Unfortunately the name of one of the committeemen was omitted. Mr. Mackenzie Porter is the chairman of the Property Use Committee. We should be grateful to you if you would mention Porter's name and chairmanship in this week's Sun.

OVERSTUFFED
Dear Editor:

It's no surprise to me that the robins at this time seem overstuffed. We have a near one-quarter acre of pyracantha, and I believe that all the robins were here first—before Thanksgiving. There was nothing left for holidays. Literally, the berries this year were "strictly for the birds."

Do You Have Ticket-itis Or Donation Neurosis?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

How many times each year are you asked to contribute to this club or that fund drive?

How often are you asked to "donate" by buying tickets for this event or that affair? How many times are you solicited for a "prize" or program ad or a donation of some other kind?

The "funny" part of all this is that most of the solicitations are for worthwhile causes. The various fund drives and solicitations finance vitally important programs. We would not have many needed services without them.

Thank you, Dr. Murphy

Yet, I'm certain you sometimes become tired of it all—and, thus, you may get a kick out of memo sent to me by Joseph Murphy, M.D. The memo is headed, "An Alumnus Subscribes to the Annual Alumni Fund Appeal." Here it is:

DEAR POLYTECHNIC ALUMNI FUND:

In reply to your recent plea that I join my fellow Alumni in support of Science and Engineering Education at the Institute, I wish to inform you that the present conditions of my bank account makes it almost impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to Federal Laws, County Laws, City Laws, Corporation Laws, Liquor Laws, Mother-in-Laws, Sister-in-Laws and Outlaws.

Through these Laws I am compelled to pay a Business Tax, Amusement Tax, Head Tax, School Tax, Gas Tax, Light Tax, Sales Tax, Liquor Tax, Income Tax, Food Tax, State Tax and Excise Tax. Even my brains are Taxed. I am required to get a Business License, Car License, Hunting and Fishing License, Truck License, not to mention a Cat and Dog License.

You name it . . .

I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life; to Women's Relief, Unemployment Relief, and Gold Diggers' Relief. Also to every charitable institution in the city, including the Black Cross, Purple Cross and the Double Cross.

For my own safety I am required to carry Life Insurance, Property Insurance, Liability Insurance, Burglar Insurance, Accident Insurance, Business Insurance, Earthquake Insurance, Unemployment Insurance, Old Age Insurance and Fire Insurance.

My business is so governed that it is no easy matter to find out who owns it. I am Inspected, Expected, Suspected, Disrespected, Rejected, Dejected, Examined, Reexamined, Informed, Required, Summoned, Fined, Commanded and Compelled until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need of the human race.

What if you don't?

Simply because I refuse to donate to something or other I am Boycotted, Talked About, Lied About, Held Up and Held Down until I am almost ruined.

I can tell you honestly that but for a miracle that happened, I could not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to my door now-a-days just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money.

Very truly yours,
BOB

Here Are Findings of CTA Investigation

The following is a summary of the conclusions reached three years ago by an independent committee which examined the controversy at the Contra Costa Junior College District.

The conclusions are lengthy, but the following summary will present the meat of what the CTA Personnel Standards Commission found to be the main points of contention.

"Unrest and low morale do exist among the majority of the certificated staff in this district. The reason is not primarily related to matters of salary, but to poor communication and bad human relations shown in lack of professional equality, fairness and consideration of others.

". . . THERE had been little effort made by the teacher associations actually to sit down with the superintendent to discuss problems of common concern. It was also clear that the superintendent did not attempt to reconcile differences by inviting the teachers' associations to discuss their differences with him.

"Public criticism of individual faculty members and faculty groups by the superintendent is not conducive to the development of an atmosphere of mutual respect. His condescending attitude toward the faculty is also detrimental in this regard.

"Some of the turnover in administrative personnel (32 administrators in the past nine years) was caused by the inability of the administrators to work with the present structure under conditions imposed by the superintendent.

"THE GOVERNING board has failed in its evaluation of the administrative function in that it did not differentiate between the little ripples of concern and the rather strong current of dissension existing among the professional staff.

"The teacher associations were at fault in not seeking an audience with the superintendent for the purpose of airing their concerns, even though they felt the effort would be futile.

"The commission concludes that the policy of the board on lines of communication, which provides that all matters from the staff for board consideration are to be channeled through the superintendent, is administratively sound. A receptive attitude in the district office and a genuine willingness to work together constructively on the part of all personnel could bring about smoother relationships within the existing structure.

"IT IS APPARENT to the commission that a definite conflict in philosophies exists—democratic on the part of teachers, authoritarian on the part of central administration and the board.

"The forceful personality of the superintendent, coupled with his belief that he acts in the best interest of the system and that those disagreeing with him are either desirous of more money or simply misguided, precludes good communications or understanding and certainly makes the superintendent's statement that 'my door is always open' a meaningless one, for most are hesitant to enter when they feel certain that their motives and character will be impugned in the room beyond.

"However, regardless of the superintendent's authoritarian practices, there is a distinct minority of teachers who strongly support him."

The Staff Corner
Leaflets, Textbooks

By NORMAN COLBY

Drummond McCunn, superintendent of the Contra Costa Junior College District, believes that the U.S. State Department may enter into an executive agreement providing for "world government" and occupation of the United States by foreign troops with the right to fire on American citizens.

McCunn believes that this executive agreement will be concluded without submission to the U.S. Congress.

This information was contained in a leaflet handed by McCunn personally to newsmen at the recent "college hour" where McCunn explained his beliefs and his approval "on one point only" of the John Birch Society.

McCUNN RECOMMENDED to the newsmen and students that they read the leaflet, which was the Economic Council Letter 477, published by the National Economic Council, Inc., New York City.

Its prediction that the State Department plans to "push through this deal" (world government) was published in April, 1960, 20 months ago.

The leaflet 20 months ago said that the U.S. State Department had entered into a secret agreement for arms control and "eventual general disarmament" and it adds, "To surrender our arms will be to surrender to a World Government."

This World Government would be dominated by Soviet Russia with the aid of those Asian and African nations which have been coming into existence in such numbers recently . . .," said the leaflet.

THE LEAFLET contains a map which is credited to the World Association of Parliamentarians for World Government and which shows how the United States will be occupied by foreign troops. Superintendent McCunn commented upon this map at the students' meeting, urging them to examine it.

The leaflet says, ". . . It will be seen from the map that no American troops of the proposed world police would be stationed in America, but rather in Australia, Uruguay, Argentina, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, India and certain Soviet provinces.

"Americans would be policed by troops from Soviet Russia, as well as by Irish, Belgian, Colombian and Venezuelan troops."

Continues the article, "Now it is well known that any such wild scheme as World Government, provided American troops were to be stationed in America, would not work.

"For in all probability no American troops would fire on American citizens. But how long would Russian or any other foreign troops hesitate to fire on Americans in order to carry out the orders given them by this communist-controlled World Government."

". . . IT LOOKS AS though the intentions of the State Department plotters is to push through this deal with Soviet Russia as a so-called executive agreement, which would not have to be submitted to the Senate or to the Congress . . ."

As he was passing out this leaflet and recommending it to the students, McCunn was also speaking against exposure of the students to "socialist-slanted" textbooks which he said do not present an objective picture of the subject material.

Letters to The Editor

BOMB SHELTERS
Dear Editor:

At a time when our politicians are showing their fangs and rabidly trying to drive us underground for a communal human sacrifice to their greed and stupidity, I am speechless with gratitude for those like you who still have conscience enough to speak out for peace.

Daily we are enticed from all the mass media with what we passionately want—safety. But they deceive us with false hopes that a concrete structure will save us—(if the comb is small, that we are in the shelter, and that the enemy is considerate enough to drop his bomb at a respectable distance).

This deception is as cruel as other similar deceptions involving life — like the quack cancer cure. Not only does such a medicine fail to restore health, but prevents the genuine possibility of a cure by discouraging the victim from getting the attention of a competent specialist.

Thus the bomb shelters and their promoters discourage many of us from securing the help of our government, the United Nations, and other countries in our struggle for peace.

I hope you continue to speak out for sanity and survival and do not succumb to the sadistic and unscrupulous profiteers who feed their greed with our fears.

CHARLOTTE B. VERA

BOUNDARIES
Dear Editor:

I agree with Bob Kahn who in a recent letter to The Sun concludes that incorporation of Lafayette's business area probably would prevent eventual incorporation of the entire community.

This is not necessarily bad. One of the objectives of incorporating the entire area was to improve the business district. If, as we presume, the sales tax revenue is actually used for beautification, off-street parking, etc., most residents will be in favor.

Secondly, though the community eventually will arrive at the conclusion that incorporation of the entire area is desirable, sentiment for this move is not presently widespread, nor will it be for a number of years to come.

Everything considered, the move to incorporate only the downtown section is in order and should be accomplished.

One glaring error exists with respect to the boundaries of the proposed city. The area west of Sunset Village to Orchard Nursery should not be included.

Geographically, the Lafayette business district ends at Sunset Village. Extension of the "strip" westward would carry commercial development to the very doorsteps of the single family residential neighborhoods of Happy Valley, Acalanes Valley and Hidden Valley.

Any necessary enlargement of the Lafayette business district should be south of Mt. Diablo Boulevard, north of Brook Street and generally between Mountain View and First Street.

ANDREW H. YOUNG

Dear Editor:
OFFICIAL CAR

Re: Your Anonymous Taxpayer's letter on subject of "official cars."

This fellow should reflect a bit—if a government employee works in the field and has a legitimate reason for using the vehicle, he should be encouraged to take it home direct from the field instead of leaving the job early to meet a garage deadline.

The saving to the taxpayer is more than the cost of running the car.

I don't, incidentally, drive one.

Piedmont moved into a first-place tie with Las Lomas in the Foothill Athletic League with a 69-41 romp over Alhambra last Friday night at Piedmont. The Knights had a bye.

In other league games, Acalanes picked up its first win in three starts, defeating winless Del Valle, 48-40, and San Ramon raced past Miramonte for its second straight FAL triumph, 50-47.

PIEDMONT 69
ALHAMBRA 41

The Bulldogs, winner of their last two league starts, were no match for the Highlanders who led from the start.

A big, 18-point, first quarter gave the Clan an early eight-point buldge.

Alhambra gave its all in the second quarter, but the Clan still managed to hold the upper hand, outscoring their visitors, 16-14, for a commanding 34-24 lead at halftime.

The undefeated Highlanders turned the game into a rout with a 22-point third period spurt. The Bulldogs could muster only seven points in the quarter.

Rick Prestwood topped both teams in the scoring department with 19 points. Teammate Ned Church was next with 16. Bob Foskett picked up 10 points for the winners, all in the first half.

Alhambra's Jim Hammett, back in the lineup after a siege with the flu, paced his team with 14 points, well below his season's average.

ACALANES 48
DEL VALLE 40

The Dons held the Trojans to seven points in the third quarter while picking up 14 themseives to grab a come-from-behind first win in FAL competition.

The winners, a disappointment in their first two league outings, trailed at halftime, 21-18.

Del Valle was looking for its first leaque win in four outings.

The all-junior Trojans made a fight of it by outscoring the taller Dons, 13-8, in the second quarter after the first period ended in an 8-8 deadlock.

The night's high scorer was Del Valle's Bill O'Toole who picked up four field goals and six free throws for 14 points.

The only other player on either team who scored in double figures was forward Bill Hays of Acalanes.

He had 10 points on four field goals and two free throws.

Bob Kovats had nine points for Del Valle as did Walt Cardinet for Acalanes.

SAN RAMON 50
MIRAMONTE 47

San Ramon came from behind in the last six minutes to edge the Matadors in a see-saw battle in Danville last Friday night.

Four starters scored all of San Ramon's points with three scoring in double figures.

San Ramon center Jim Howell broke a personal scoring slump with 20 points on eight field goals and four free throws. It was high for both teams.

The Matadors turned the tables in the second period by outpointing their hosts, 15-5, to tie the game at 23-23 at halftime.

A spirited third period saw the Mats grab a three-point lead going into the final eight minutes, 36-33.

Guard Bob Metez of San Ramon continued to impress with his fine scoring ability after being sidelined with appendicitis. With 15 points, it was the fourth straight game he was in double figures.

Metez had five field goals and five free throws. Teammate Don Rice had five field goals and 10 points.

Mike McQuaid paced the Matadors with 15 points. He had seven field goals.

Bruce Nickerson had 12 points on five goals and a pair of charity tosses.

The votes are tabulated each year by the Wigwam Wise Men of America with the cooperation of the Oklahoma City Sports Organization and The Sporting News.

Seven full teams are picked in addition to the honorable mentions.

Jerry Mosher of Woodland was picked as captain of the first team. Another California player was named to the second team and a third to the seventh team.

Three Teams Are Undefeated in Danville League

Danville Basketball League still had three undefeated teams in the seven-team field this week as the third round was underway.

The three were Aerojet (2-0), Carter Glass (2-0), and Shoe Stable, who won a squeaker in their first competition of the season.

In games next week, Martinez and Danville Cement clash Tuesday; Vern S. Ryan faces Carter Glass on Wednesday, and Shoe Stable and Aerojet battle on Thursday.

All games start at 7:30 p.m. at the San Ramon High School gym.

LED by the sharpshooting of Bill Lloyd, Aerojet defeated a stubborn Martinez Club (0-2), 54-46. While Lloyd, former Brigham Young University player, was scoring 23 points he was being ably assisted by Herb Kiger, who racked up 14.

Only the strong defensive play of Aerojet kept the Martinez Club's score down.

Bert Barnett, Acalanes High School basketball coach, and his brother, Hal, were high point point men for the losers with 11 and 12 respectively.

Martinez was cold during the first half but came on fast and outscored Aerojet in the last two quarters.

Carter Glass and Diamond Building Materials (1-1) staged a nip-and-tuck affair for more than three quarters when Carter began pulling away for the win, 48-38.

Will Strong came through with 15 points to top scorers on both squads.

George Korte made 10 for Carter while John Longaker and Bill McDougal, each with 12, and Bob Gomez, with 10, led scorers for Diamond.

Falcons Win One

A fine fourth quarter failed to offset three poor periods as Pleasant Hill bowed to Mt. Diablo, 45-38, last Friday night in a Contra Costa Division game in Concord.

In another league game, College Park won its first basketball in two seasons of CCD competition by knocking off Antioch, 47-42.

The Falcons had lost 14 in a row in their first season and then opened with a loss to defending champion Pittsburg last week.

In the final league game Friday night, the last year's champs made it two in a row, thumping Pacifica, 63-47, aided by a 22-point second quarter spurt.

THE RAMS, plagued all season by an inability to score very often, could muster only 9, 5 and 7 points in the first three quarters.

After a 9-9 first quarter draw, Mt. Diablo moved to a 20-14 halftime lead, and then increased its advantage to 34-21 at the end of three quarters.

When Pleasant Hill finally found the range, it was too late. The Rams outscored the Devils, 17-11, in the final eight minutes.

Al Oxley and Tex Friedenback each had 10 points for the Rams.

College Park grabbed a slim two-point halftime lead over Antioch then held on for dear life the rest of the way to grab its initial CCD win.

However, the Parkers were equal to the task when pressed, outscoring their visitors, 11-8, in a frantic fourth quarter.

The Panthers held a 12-11 first quarter lead before College Park grabbed the lead with 14 second period points and a 25-23 halftime advantage.

BOTH teams scored 11 points in the third period.

Bob Ament had six baskets and 12 points to pace the Falcons. Mickey Sytkowski picked up seven free throws and had 11 points.

It was Antioch's first league loss in two starts.

Guard Frank Bruno's 23 points paced Pitt to their win over perennial tailender Pacifica.

After the Spartans grabbed a 13-12 first quarter lead, Pitt rallied for 22 points in the second quarter while Pacifica could muster only 12.

Improved Wolves Test Las Lomas

The Ski Line . . . .

Alpine Meadows, Sugar Bowl Host Big Events

By HEC HANCOCK

It's post time in the Sierras this weekend, as the ski for pay boys move into the Sugar Bowl for two days of professional racing.

Headed by the top names in skiing, a star-studded field will compete in a slalom Saturday, and a giant slalom Sunday. Both races will be conducted on Mt. Disney, and are scheduled to get under way at 1:30 p.m. There will be two runs of each event.

Such stars as Christian Pravda, Pepi Gramshammer, Roger Staub and former U. S. Olympic member, Max Marolt, will tangle on the boards for a right to share in prize money of $3000.

Junior Bounous and Jim McConkey of the Sugar Bowl Ski School are entered and will have considerable local support.

The opportunity to observe this great collection of ski talent at close quarter shouldn't be overlooked. Particularly when the only price of admission is your regular ticket on the Magic Carpet.

This stable of ski talent, sort of a deep freeze version of golf's tournament trail, takes up residence at Heavenly Valley to hold races there next weekend.

Almost all the advances in ski technique have come from the caldron of competition. In his all consuming desire to get from here to there in the quickest possible time, the racer is constantly finding better ways of skiing. Eventually, these techniques filter down to the recreational skier.

For those fortunate to get up during the week, it will be like taking a playing lesson from your golf pro.

The Northern Division of Junior Qualifying Races originally scheduled for Reno Bowl, Mt. Rose, January 20 and 21 have been moved to Alpine Meadows. The Reno Ski Club is still sponsoring the event, only the site has been changed. A slalom course has been set in Ward Bowl for Saturday, and a controlled downhill with approximately 30 gates will be set in Wolverine Bowl for Sunday.

Approximately 175 to 200 junior racers, classes one through five will compete. The top 40 boys and girls in classes one, two and three from this race will qualify for the State Point Races to be held at Mammoth in February.

Something for everybody—if the pros aren't your cup of tea maybe the small fry are.

I'll tell you one thing, these youngsters put on a terrific show. Those that haven't seen these young boomers race before will be amazed at the exceptionally high level of skiing that is demonstrated.

Take your pick.

Last weekend's storm did much to alleviate ski conditions. The six to eight inches of powder that were dumped on the slopes at least rectified the icy conditions that prevailed at so many locations throughout the Sierra Loop.

Alpine Meadows reports a snow pack ranging from 22 inches on the lower slopes to 50 inches in the upper bowls. There is eight to 10 inches of new powder.

Dodge Ridge sends word that the Gold Nugget slalom events will be resumed this Sunday. Ski conditions are stated to be first rate. Snow depths range from 20 to 32 inches.

Echo Summit Ski Area has from 14 to 26 inches of packed powder. Conditions are described as excellent... With the low temperatures that are prevailing, Echo Summit doesn't anticipate a snow shortage for some time.

Mt. Shasta Bowl, as always, has plenty of snow. Presently their pack is over six feet with good ski conditions prevailing.

While the small storm of last week brought relief to the long-suffering skier and resort operator, it was of a very temporary nature. What is needed, and needed urgently, is a good block buster of a storm. One that will dump two to three feet of snow. Following this, there should be a steady stream of storms, each building the pack to more substantial proportions.

The tragic aspect of this skimpy snow pack, is that the acute water shortage will be further aggravated. This will make the fourth subnormal winter in succession, and will bring the water situation to a critical point.

Berkeley Romps Past Las Lomas

Las Lomas, co-leader of the Football League and its defending champion, moved out of its class Tuesday afternoon, and was thumped by Berkeley of ACAL, 63-41, in Berkeley. It was the fourth non-league loss for Las Lomas in seven games. The Knights are 3-0 in FAL play.

Berkeley started slowly, but finally grabbed the lead in the third quarter and then ran away from the Knights with a 27-point outburst in the fourth quarter.

Las Lomas grabbed an early lead as they outscored their hosts, 12-8, in the opening eight minutes.

Berkeley came back to deadlock the game at 23-23 at halftime.

They outscored Las Lomas, 13-8, in the third quarter to hold a five-point lead going in the final session.

The Knights were still in the game, but not for long.

The last quarter was a nightmare for the FAL team as Berkeley could do no wrong and Las Lomas could do nothing right.

Bob Nichols paced the Knights with 17 points on six field goals and five free throws.

Rick Inman had 13 points for the Knights as he connected on nine free throws.

Bob Metez Paces FAL In Scoring

San Ramon guard Bob Metez is leading the Foothill Athletic League in scoring with 66 points after four games.

Metez, who was stricken with appendicitis just before the holidays, returned in time for the league play and has been coach Larry DeRushia's most potent offensive threat. He is averaging 16.5 points per game.

Jim Hammett of Alhambra is in second place with 60 even though he missed one game because of the flu. Hammett is carrying a 20-point game average.

Another San Ramon player, Don Rice, is in third place. He had scored 58 points. His 22 free throws top the league.

Bob Nichols of Las Lomas is in third place while playing only three games.

He has scored 54 points for an 18-point average.

Pitt Is Too Tough for Pleasant Hill, 56-48

A third quarter scoring drought spelled disaster for Pleasant Hill as Pittsburg outlasted the Rams, 56-48, Tuesday afternoon.

Pittsburg, defending champions of the Contra Costa Division, has now won three straight games and are tied with Mt. Diablo for the league lead.

For the Rams, it was the third straight loss. They are tied with Pacifica for last place.

College Park, 1-1, had a bye Tuesday.

Pleasant Hill grabbed a 15-13 lead at the end of the first eight minutes of wide-open basketball.

The Pirates kept firing at the basket with good accuracy in the second quarter as the Pleasant Hill scoring fell off.

PITT outscored the Rams, 19-12, in the quarter to grab a 32-27 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter Pleasant Hill could not muster a basket until the final seconds of the quarter. The Rams ended up with six points in the eight minutes while Pitt had 13.

Down by 12 points, Pleasant Hill rallied in the final quarter to cut the margin to five points with three minutes to go.

However, they couldn't get any closer as Pittsburg played steady ball to hold its lead.

Pleasant Hill's Glen Graham paced both teams with 19 points.

HE HAD seven baskets and five free throws and also picked off 11 rebounds in his best game of the season.

Graham's 11 points in the first half kept the Rams within striking range of the defending champs and then he picked up six more as Pleasant Hill made its futile fourth quarter rally.

Al Oxley had 10 points and Ray Perry had eight for the Rams.

In other games Mt. Diablo won its third straight CCD game, 54-30, over Clayton Valley and Antioch handed Pacifica its third straight loss, 56-45.

Dons Are First in FAL Frosh League

Acalanes defeated Del Valle in a Foothill League frosh contest, 36-13, last Friday. The Dons are undefeated and in first place with a 2-0 record.

Miramonte topped San Ramon, 18-13, also last Friday in its first game of the season. San Ramon is 0-2.

San Ramon Out to Break Knights' FAL Streak

By GEORGE COLBURN
Sports Editor

San Ramon and Las Lomas clash in the feature game of three-game Foothill League schedule this evening in Walnut Creek.

The Knights, champion or co-champion of the FAL for the past three years, are working on a 15-game winning streak over the past two league seasons.

Under new coach Ed Strelow, the Knights have a 3-0 league record this season.

They have defeated Alhambra (60-48), Del Valle (47-31) and Miramonte (45-34) so far.

LAST YEAR under Merrill Callow, the Knights won their last 12 games of a 15-game schedule to grab the undisputed title. The previous two years they shared the title.

With two wins in four league starts, San Ramon has doubled last year's FAL win output.

The Wolves were 1-14 last season in league play.

After losing two nip-and-tuck battles to start the season (47-44 to co-leader Piedmont and 57-52 to Alhambra), the Wolves have rebounded to dump Del Valle (53-44) and Miramonte (50-47) in succession.

Definitely on the rebound, Coach Larry DeRushia's charges could give Las Lomas its sternest test of the season to date.

San Ramon center Jim Howell will get the assignment of stopping the Knights' Bob Nichols, who is averaging 18 points a game in FAL play.

LAS LOMAS guard Greg Bertagnolli of Las Lomas will probably be assigned to stop guard Bob Metez of San Ramon, who is scoring at a 16.5 clip in the FAL since his return to the lineup. He leads the league in total points scored.

Another player to watch in the San Ramon lineup is forward Don Rice, who scored 26 against Del Valle. Rick Inman, a capable and steady performer for Las Lomas, will probably be his shadow.

The battle promises to be a good one, with Las Lomas getting a pre-game edge because of the home court advantage.

In another game tonight, Piedmont should pick up win No. 4 as they face Del Valle (0-4) in Walnut Creek. The scrappy Trojans will not be able to match the height and fire power of the Clan.

AT ACALANES this evening, the Dons and Miramonte will try to shove the other out of the FAL title picture even further.

Both teams are 1-2.

A third loss will almost eliminate the loser from consideration in the 12-game schedule.

There are no prep games scheduled in the FAL or the Contra Costa division of the DVAL Tuesday, but both leagues have a full schedule next Friday night.

In the CCD tonight, Pleasant Hill will be hosting Antioch as they seek win No. 1 in league play and College Park hopes to stay in the title picture when they visit Pacifica.

The Parkers are 1-1 and tied for third place, while Pacifica is winless in three games.

Amerding Makes College Dean's List

Robert Armerding, son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Armerding, 3477 St. Mary's Road, has been named on the Dean's List at Armstrong College in Berkeley for the fall quarter in a report released by Jack E. Bedford, dean of the college.

Conway Will Run for Sheriff's Office

Vernon L. "Jack" Conway, Concord city councilman, lieutenant colonel Army National Guard and deputy commander of the First Battle Group, 184th Infantry, today announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Contra Costa County.

Declaring that the sheriff's department needed "a new look and professional reorganization," Conway said that rising cost of operation had not resulted in increased efficiency despite the fact that the patrol area had decreased by more than 100 square miles during the present sheriff's tenure.

CAMPAIGN promises by the present sheriff to keep costs down have not been fulfilled, Conway said. The sheriff's office budget has increased 25 per cent and protection has decreased, Conway noted. The department does not lack talent but too many of the personnel are poorly utilized, he added.

Top level leadership would recognize qualifications of individuals rather than discriminate against department members because of their personal affiliations, Conway said.

"During the next five months I intend to show people how they can receive better service for their money. Many detailed points will be covered in my talks to individuals and groups and I hope to talk to as many citizens of Contra Costa County as possible in the coming months," Conway said today.

CONWAY, 39, was appointed to the Concord City Council in 1959, replacing Thomas J. Coll who had been elected to the board of supervisors. In 1960 Conway was elected to a regular four-year term.

A director of the Contra Costa County Development Association and the Concord Area Chamber of Commerce, he is vice-chairman-elect of the county highway advisory committee.

In addition he is a member of the Elks, Concord Lodge 1994; Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 5182; the Association of the U.S. Army and the Association of the Army National Guard, California.

Owner of Conway Motors Company of Concord, he is a licensed pilot, flying mainly from the county airport at Buchanan Field.

A NATIVE of Texas, Conway moved to Walnut Creek with his family while he was in his teens, enlisting in the Army from there in 1942. While serving in Europe in 1944 he won a battlefield commission to second lieutenant.

During the drive for Berlin he served with General Patton's famed 4th Armored Division and later was commander of a prisoner of war camp at Berkhausen, Germany, where 70,000 PW's were processed before release.

Following the war Conway acted as an Army investigator in seven European countries, planning and handling transportation of displaced persons to their native countries.

RETURNING to the United States in 1946, he served as an instructor at Fort Knox, Kentucky, until mustered out later in the year.

In 1951 Conway completed advanced infantry courses at Fort Benning, Georgia, received two additional courses in advanced technique and has a total of more than 500 credit hours in advanced military tactics.

Last year he completed advanced armored training at Fort Knox and a course at the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The battle group which he currently commands has units in Walnut Creek, Pittsburg and Sacramento. Previous command units included El Cerrito and for the past seven years summary court officer for Contra Costa County.

Decorations won by Conway during his military career include the Silver Star, Bronze Star with cluster, three major battle stars, Purple Heart and Combat Infantry Medal.

Light Opera Has Variety Of Folk!

The wide variety of talented men and women who are working hard getting ready for the Diablo Light Opera Company's production of "Brigadoon" is typified by Walnut Creek's Cliff Egan, an attorney and former member of the University of California's Senior Octet.

"Some of us used to get together once a week and sing, and then we began to talk about getting more people and really trying something," Egan told The Sun.

"Now we have about 40 singers, and 10 or 12 others who help out. We all build the sets and do the manual work. We even make our own costumes, thanks to Harriet Deneiko.

"MANY of us, like myself, have had no formal voice lessons, but most of our leads have had much training.

"We have been getting ready for Brigadoon for six months, and many have put in far more than 100 hours of solid work.

"Especially the last two weeks, then we really work," he sighed.

The idea for forming the company came from the discussion of Egan, his wife, Grete; Harold Zuckerman, a Danville teacher, and his wife, Ilene.

ZUCKERMAN is also an alumnus of the UC singing group.

Egan, after graduating from the university, served as a U.S. Navy officer aboard a destroyer, then completed his law training at Hastings Law School, University of California, before entering practice and getting back to an occasional sing session with friends.

"I also can sing baritone, but there is usually a greater demand for tenors," he said.

Egan is also Martinez chairman of the March of Dimes, Martinez United Crusade chairman, also chairman of the Martinez Boy Scout troop, keeps his lungs in shape in the St. Andrews Church choir.

OTHER company members include Vincent Wood, a Concord dentist and a male lead in "Brigadoon"; Donald Poulton, an orthodonist in the city of Alameda and another "lead"; two brothers who are physicists, Bill Brown and Herb Brown.

One of the young singers is Gary Mott, a plsterer. The occupation of housewife is also prominent. There are 20 of them!

Baldwin's Voting Record--He's Always There

Representative John Baldwin of Martinez has been listed as the only congressman west of the Mississippi River who voted every time during seven or more years in Congress.

Baldwin's voting record during the 87th Congress was cited in the Congressional Quarterly, the authoritative reference on Congress.

Earlier reports in the Congressional Quarterly have noted that Baldwin has answered every roll call and his voted "for the record" on every occasion since first being elected to Congress in 1954.

Congressional Quarterly reports show Baldwin's record has only been matched by two other members now in the U. S. House of Representatives, both of whom are from Southern States.

The Moraga Republican Woman's Club will hold its annual membership tea February 6 from 2 to 4 p.m. at Mike Lynn's in Orinda. Mrs. George W. Hirni, chairman of the tea, cordially invites Moraga Valley's Republican Women to attend and become acquainted with the members and the activities of the club.

February 21 is the date chosen by the Contra Costa Republican Women to present their luncheon and fashion show at the Diablo Country Club. Moraga women may call Mrs. Byron Warner at DRake 6-4209 for reservations.

The Orinda-Moraga TAR group is to be congratulated for their fine job of delivering notices of registration to local residents. They will also be helping register local residents before the April deadline in order that they may vote in the June primaries.

Newly elected officers of the Moraga Valley Republican Woman's Club are: president, Byron Warner; vice-president, Mrs. Harold C. Bates; corresponding secretary, Robert F. Campbell; recording secretary, Mrs. Miles A. Cobb; treasurer, Mrs. Elmo Mazzera; telephone chairman, Mrs. J. Calvin Hermanson; membership chairman, Mrs. George W. ARCTIC HARE

The Arctic hare has the largest feet of any member of the rabbit family, according to the National Automobile Club. The hind feet may measure as much as seven inches from the tip of the toenail to the back of the heel.

Pine Grove Has Rally

Pine Grove students had a rousing rally at assembly Tuesday afternoon for the first home basketball game to be held on the Orinda intermediate school campus this year, this time against Pinole.

Yell leaders led the enthusiastic rooters in a fine assortment of old and new yells, with Larry De Grassi heading up the arm-wavers, assisted by Sandy Robinson and Andrea Knudsen.

Pom-pon girls performed intricate routines to recorded music. Those selected this year include: Beth Lincoln, Joan Portello, Gail Valprada, LiLi Kelly, Juliette Ohleyer, Cathy Miller, Janice Eberhart and Candy Jacobs.

BATTERY CARE TIP

With batteries operating more equipment than ever before, they need more regular attention, points out the National Automobile Club. Inspections twice monthly should be minimum.

Adoption Group Hears Summary

The Contra Costa County Citizens Advisory Committee on Adoption held a luncheon meeting yesterday at the county administrative building, Martinez.

The committee reviewed changes in practices at the county adoption unit regarding the time of fee payment and the use of group meetings for prospective adoptive parents.

Harry Lohstroh of Pleasant Hill presented a report summarizing the written comments of committee members on some legislative questions.

We live in a beautiful area. Don't litterbug. Let's keep our garden clean.

LOCAL FOLKS who will lead the Contra Costa County Cancer Society's drive this year attended a dinner at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, San Francisco, and talked with master of ceremonies Ralph Edwards, second from right. Left to right: John Colley of Walnut Creek, county chairman; Mrs. Leroy Sowers, Lafayette, Society treasurer; Edwards; Jack Chapman, Alamo, Society president.

Law on Foreign Language Will Be Reviewed

The new state law which makes instruction in foreign language mandatory in the elementary grades in 1965 will be reviewed by a member of the State Department of Education at a workshop in foreign languages to be held tomorrow in Pleasant Hill.

Foreign language teachers and specialists from the county's schools will attend the workshop, the first of a series of two sponsored by the office of county superintendent, to be held in his offices in the Contra Costa County Library and Office Building, beginning at 9 a.m.

Two NDEA consultants in foreign language from Santa Clara County will demonstrate the methods and techniques of instruction in foreign language—James Carrier at the elementary level and James Marshall at the secondary level.

Carrier is coordinator of foreign languages in Los Altos School District, and Marshall is a teacher and coordinator of foreign languages at Los Altos High School.

Join The Sun Feb. 1 for A Free European Tour

How would you and your family like to take a free tour of Europe?

You can do it, if you come to the free Sun Travel Night, February 1 at the Acalanes High School cafeteria at 8 p.m.

But we feel that we should warn you to come a little early, because over 350 people joined The Sun at the last travel night, and all seats were taken.

What is in store for you when you join The Sun that Thursday night?

Well, Sylvia Earle, noted world traveler, author, journalist and lecturer, will be on hand to outline for you what you will see if you join The Sun Jubilee Holiday—28 days and nine countries—leaving June 14.

SHE WILL follow the itinerary of The Sun Jubilee trip, showing you the motor coaches you will travel in, the sights in the important towns, and the hotels where you will stay.

She will also bring along samples of items you may wish to purchase in Europe—which pieces are bargains, and which are art pieces.

Some of the cities you will tour, both February 1 by film and later in the summer in person, if you join The Sun Jubilee Tour, include: Amsterdam, Cologne, Heidelberg, Lucerne, Innsbruck, Venice, Florence, Rome, Nice, Paris and London.

You will travel by KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, jet, to and from the Continent, and you will travel in first-class rail and private coaches on the Continent.

ALL MEALS, with the exception of lunch and dinner in London, Paris and Rome, are included.

The most remarkable thing about the whole Sun Jubilee Tour, though, is the price. Only $1095 includes everything except the above mentioned meals.

Perhaps the nicest thing about the trip is you will not be traveling with strangers, but your own friends and neighbors, in small groups.

But, if you are interested, just come to The Sun Travel Night, February 1 at Acalanes High School at 8 p.m. and see for yourself.

There will be prizes, and naturally, there is no charge for the evening or the entertainment.

School Building Planner Wanted

Contra Costa County will hire a director of school building planning.

The salary is $745-$905 per month.

The following experience is required: Degree in architecture or engineering plus for years public building design and construction; eight years building inspection; four years as a school administrator which included school construction.

Boating Class Is Available To Public

The United States Power Squadron announces the starting of a new class in piloting and small boat handling, which is open to the public and to which they are cordially invited.

The course commences on January 31, from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. and will be conducted in the new Physical Science Building, Room S-120, Diablo Valley College.

The course runs for 13 weeks and will cover many phases of boating, including rules of the road, safety afloat, piloting, charting and compass. Upon passing the examinations a certificate will be given. College credit is also given for those wishing the same.

The course is free and anyone interested in boating should take it by all means.

Youth Concert Leaders Talk About Tickets

Directors of Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts and area chairmen met at the Nut Bowl, Pleasant Hill, recently.

More than a third of the season tickets have been sold through the first mail order drive held in the fall, said Mrs. Rowland Barrett, president.

School chairmen from the area will soon complete the drive.

James Arnold, music supervisor for the Mt. Diablo School District and an advisory member of Youth Concerts spoke on "Youth and Music."

Concert chairman, Mrs. Donald Danields, discussed the artists and performers for the season. She stated the first concert will be the San Francisco Symphony, February 4, conducted by oboist Jean-Louis LeRoux, with bassoonist Walter Green as commentator.

The Caledonia Singers and Dancers of Scotland will perform February 18; Lola Montes and her Spanish dancers, March 18 and the Gilbert and Sullivan Concert Hall, April 8.

The highlight of the afternoon was a selection from Miss Rosslyn Thorp, cellist from Pleasant Hill High School, the winner of one of the 1960 Youth Concert scholarships to the University of Pacific Music Camp. Her accompanist was Mrs. Evelyn McLean.

Spain's Impact On California Is Subject

Members and guests of the Contra Costa County Historical Sociey will hear Dr. R. Coke Wood of the University of the Pacific, Stockton, discuss the impact early Spain and nature's phenomena on California's history February 7 in the Diablo Valley College, Concord.

The meeting is open to residents of the county who are interested in local and state history.

Little Bores Come Before Big Bore

Instead of digging one large hole to begin the new bore for the Caldecott Tunnel, engineers are drilling three small bore holes, called "minor drifts."

Inside the hill, just north of the present two bores used by daily commuters, and to the right of drivers headed for the big city, the engineers will join the three small bores into one large bore, at the same time erecting steel arch ribs.

Once the ribs are erected, the engineers can then join the three small bores into a large one back to the entrance without fear of cave-in, according to Bill Fox of Sacramento, state highway engineer.

After that, the main bore work will begin in about a week, said Fox.

The dirt being removed will be used as base for a future freeway, and is being compacted in a canyon to the north of the existing highway.

Now that the hibernating season is here, the bear fact is that you spend more time indoors. Longer nights, darker days, colder weather means you use more lights and heat, cook more hot meals, watch more TV. And you've probably added more appliances, too. So it's perfectly normal for your PG&E bill to be a little bigger these days. But doesn't it make it a little more bearable...when you know that the price of PG&E gas and electricity for a typical home is 8% less than it was 30 years ago!

Producing fine merchandise requires the liberal use of fine materials and skilled labor. Because CM builds only merchandise of the finest quality, CM material and labor costs are higher than competition. However, in non-essential costs that contribute nothing to the value of the merchandise but much to its cost, CM has by far the lowest costs in the industry. By reducing to a minimum national advertising, trade paper advertising, multi-stage distribution, excessive occupancy cost, excessive executive cost, and generally high burden costs, CM is able to use finer materials and skilled labor most liberally to build the finest quality, the most beautiful merchandise that the industry affords at costs far below competition.

Dog Training Two Matches Club Plans

The Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club will hold two challenge matches in the Walnut Creek Recreation Center, February 4. Invited to participate are the San Francisco, Oakland and San Lorenzo Dog Training Clubs. On March 25, the Santa Clara, St. Francis and Vallejo Obedience Clubs will be chalelnged by Mt. Diablo.

According to Ned Kerr, chairman, these matches will serve as a warmup training for Mt. Diablo's own 15th annual obedience trial, April 19 at Walnut Creek City Park.

All committees appointed for the April show will participate for a trial-run of procedures.

Kerr will be assisted by co-chairman Walt Volz.

Members of Mt. Diablo Dog Training classes may enter these matches under the club's colors, as the rings are set up to provide practice and experience under actual show conditions.

Registration for these challege matches will be taken at the Recreation Center the days of the show and judging will start at 12:30 p.m. Entry fee is $1.

Each additional entry for the same dog is 50 cents. There will be A and B classes in Novice, Open and Utility rings, and ribbons will be presented to the winners in each class.
